Democracy in Turkey

Turkey's President Erdoğan has been criticised for harming democracy in Turkey.

His critics said he had:

- attacked freedom of speech by placing restrictions on the media and journalists
- attacked the independence of the judiciary, eg putting 'pressure' on judges to make rulings that are in the interests of the government
- reduced the limits on the President's power, eg using the failed coup of July 2016 as an excuse to change the constitution and sacking his opponents from their jobs in the army, judiciary and civil service.

Compare two features of the situation in Turkey, described in Source A, with how democracy works in Britain.

The Iraq War

The United Kingdom's armed forces have been used to intervene in many international disputes and conflicts in recent years in an attempt to resolve them.

This use of force has been controversial. Some believe that the use of force often fails to resolve disputes and conflicts and makes the situation worse. The use of force may result in an increase in suffering for the civilian population.

The post-war situation which developed in Iraq after the end of the Iraq War in 2003 highlighted these problems.

There have been calls for alternative methods to be used when the United Kingdom intervenes in any future international conflict in order to avoid such problems occurring.

Discuss two methods, not mentioned in Source C, which the UK government could use to help resolve international disputes and conflicts.

A school's admission policy

In 2015, parents in Surrey began a protest against the proposed change in a local secondary school's admissions policy because they believed they were being discriminated against.

The school wanted to offer priority places to five named feeder schools. The objectors wrote to the school and said parents of children who went to other primaries would be 'behind in the queue' even if they lived closer to the school.

However, the school ignored the objectors and adopted a new admissions policy in the September of that year.

Discuss two ways, not mentioned in Source D, in which parents could challenge a school's admission policy.

Localism Act 2011 – ‘Assets of Community Value’

The Campaign for Real Ale (CAMRA) enjoyed success when the Localism Act 2011 was passed. This Act gave more protection to pubs so that they could not be demolished or converted into shops or other businesses without planning permission. People are now given a say to avoid the injustice of having ‘no voice’ in the loss of what some see as a vital social hub.

This was a victory for the group, who had lobbied for greater government support for pubs in order to reverse the rise in pub closures. CAMRA has enjoyed a close working relationship with governments of all political persuasions, and in particular, with the Department for Communities and Local Government.

Referring to Source G, consider two reasons why citizens may be unsuccessful in their fight against injustice.
