Centres must follow national and local regulations relating to safety and first aid.

Before the planning session

- One working day before the start of the planning session in your school, the centre must open the sealed packet of question papers. The centre should select five tests from the question paper, which must be allocated to the candidates in strict alphabetical order. Each candidate takes one test only.
- The preparation sheets (Choices and Recipes, Time Plan and Shopping List) and the instructions for completion must be downloaded from www.cambridgeinternational.org/samples.
- All candidates at the centre must take the planning session at the same time.

During the planning session

- Candidates are allowed to use recipe books both for the planning session and during the practical test. These books must contain no reference to syllabus material beyond the details of the recipes themselves.
- Candidates must not take away the question paper, any notes or their preparation sheets from the planning session. They may not bring any additional notes to the practical test.

After the planning session and before the practical test

- A copy must be made of each preparation sheet completed by the candidates. The originals are for use by the practical examiner and the copies are for use by the candidates in the practical test.
- All preparation sheets (and copies) and question papers must be kept secure.
- The candidates' Shopping Lists must be handed to the Food & Nutrition teacher, who is responsible for ordering the ingredients.
- The preparation sheets must not be altered between the planning session and the practical test.
- Candidates must not be given information or guidance about the tests between the planning session and the practical test.

During the practical test

- The exam room should be available to the practical examiner for at least 15 minutes before the practical test.
- The Food & Nutrition teacher should only be in the room if they are acting as the practical examiner.
- The following should be provided on a tray for the practical examiner's use: knife, teaspoon, small jug or basin, tea towel.
- On the day of the practical test, any ingredients ordered by candidates should be placed on their individual work tables or left on the store table.
- Food preparation must not begin before the start of the practical test. Precooked food may only be provided if this is stated in the candidate's preparation sheets.
- The preparation sheets must be returned to the candidates at the beginning of the practical test.
- A serving table, or individual serving tables, should be available for serving the finished dishes, with a named place for each candidate.
- One good-quality colour photograph must be taken of each candidate's serving table to show the labelled completed dishes (without lids or coverings). A hard copy of the photograph must be labelled with the candidate's number, name and test number.
- Any assistance provided to candidates must be recorded in the practical examiner's report (provided on pages 7–8 of these instructions).
