It was Sheela's first time watching a live cricket match at the stadium. She had spent years watching matches on the television, celebrating her team's victories and analysing their defeats with relatives and friends. She had dreamed often of going to the stadium to watch an international game, but the stadium was so far from her town and the transport was so expensive that she hadn't been able to go.

Today, she sat proudly in the stadium as both teams came on to the cricket field. At one point, a national television channel announced her presence in the crowd as the winner of the local competition. Sheela smiled broadly and said her prayers for her team. Her wishes were fulfilled when her team won the match.

This image shows a single sheet of white paper with horizontal ruling lines. The lines are evenly spaced and run across the width of the page. There are no margins, text, or other markings on the paper.
