Part 3: Translation

Translate the following passage into Urdu.

It is said that playing team sports brings people closer together. In most cases, they are very enjoyable ways of not only keeping fit but of learning how to deal with life's ups and downs. These lessons include working together as a team and accepting winning and losing without getting too upset. But you must remember that the main purpose of any sport is simply to have fun and spend time with your friends.

However, some people in the modern world we live in think that it is more important to win at all costs. Team coaches can get their young teams to play too hard and sometimes this results in fights on the pitch. One very experienced coach's opinion is that this may be happening because sport is now seen as a way out of poverty, and, quite naturally, young people will do almost anything to improve their own and their families' lives.
