MARK SCHEME

General Marking Instructions

Introduction

Mark schemes are published to assist teachers and students in their preparation for examinations. Through the mark schemes teachers and students will be able to see what examiners are looking for in response to questions and exactly where the marks have been awarded. The publishing of the mark schemes may help to show that examiners are not concerned about finding out what a student does not know but rather with rewarding students for what they do know.

The Purpose of Mark Schemes

Examination papers are set and revised by teams of examiners and revisers appointed by the Council. The teams of examiners and revisers include experienced teachers who are familiar with the level and standards expected of students in schools and colleges.

The job of the examiners is to set the questions and the mark schemes; and the job of the revisers is to review the questions and mark schemes commenting on a large range of issues about which they must be satisfied before the question papers and mark schemes are finalised.

The questions and the mark schemes are developed in association with each other so that the issues of differentiation and positive achievement can be addressed right from the start. Mark schemes, therefore, are regarded as part of an integral process which begins with the setting of questions and ends with the marking of the examination.

The main purpose of the mark scheme is to provide a uniform basis for the marking process so that all the markers are following exactly the same instructions and making the same judgements in so far as this is possible. Before marking begins a standardising meeting is held where all the markers are briefed using the mark scheme and samples of the students' work in the form of scripts. Consideration is also given at this stage to any comments on the operational papers received from teachers and their organisations. During this meeting, and up to and including the end of the marking, there is provision for amendments to be made to the mark scheme. What is published represents this final form of the mark scheme.

It is important to recognise that in some cases there may well be other correct responses which are equally acceptable to those published: the mark scheme can only cover those responses which emerged in the examination. There may also be instances where certain judgements may have to be left to the experience of the examiner, for example, where there is no absolute correct response – all teachers will be familiar with making such judgements.

Notes to examiners

1. This mark scheme should be read in conjunction with the Instructions to Assistant Examiners, in particular the references to annotation of candidates' work.
2. To facilitate marking, the text can be divided into six sections. Mark off these sections within the script before starting to mark. The total number of marks available for the question [20] has been tripled to a working total of [60]. The translation should be assessed by applying the description of performance grid, set out on the page following the translation, in each of the six sections. Examiners are asked to place each section in a band and award a mark. To facilitate totalling, that mark should be recorded as a sub-total in the right-hand margin, level with the section slash. Insert the total at the end of the translation. Divide by three to give a mark out of twenty; the final mark should be transferred, ringed, to the top right-hand corner of the candidate's script. $\frac{1}{3}$ should be rounded down and $\frac{2}{3}$ should be rounded up.
3. Ticks over relevant section(s) must indicate positive marks to be awarded. Errors should be underlined, infelicities indicated by a wavy line. Ticks should indicate where marks are being awarded. If alternatives are offered, only the first should be credited.
4. Credit should be given for other valid responses not set out in Suggested Translation.
5. Repeated or consequential errors should be ringed.

Translation Grid for Mark Scheme
The translation is divided into 6 sections. Each section is worth 10 marks. The total is then divided by 3 to give a mark out of 20.

| 1 | Fadó bhí leabhar rolla ag na múinteoirí ar maidin agus scriobh siad síos aimmneacha na ndaoine a bhí ar scoil agus aimmneacha na ndaoine a bhí as láthair. | Long ago the teachers had a roll-book in the morning and they wrote down the names of the people who were at school and the names of the people who were absent. | | |
| 2 | Agus sin é an nós a bhí ann sna scoileanna go dtí cúpla bliain ó shin. Anois cliceálaíonn na múinteoirí ar ríomhaire nó ar chlár bán, b'fhéidir, leis an rolla a ghlaicadh. | And that was the custom in schools until a couple of years ago. Now teachers click on a computer or perhaps on a whiteboard to take the roll. | | |
| 3 | Tá an teicneolaíocht úsáideach agus níl amhras ar bith ann go bhfuil sí de dhíth ar dhaltaí an lae inniu. | Technology is useful and there is no doubt that today's students need it! | | |
| 4 | Le blianta beaga annas tá scoileanna ag iarráidh ar a gcuid scoláirí obair bhaile a dhéanamh ar líne agus a chur chuig múinteoirí le ríomhpost. | For the past few years schools have been asking their pupils to do homework online and to send it to teachers via e-mail. | | |
| 5 | Ar a bharr sin, tá roinnt scoileanna ann a thugann ríomhairí tábléid dá gcuid daltaí nó a iarrann othu iad a cheannach. | Furthermore/in addition to that, there are some schools now who give tablet computers to their pupils or who ask them to buy them. | | |
| 6 | San am atá le teacht beidh scileanna maithe ríomhaireachta ag gach dalta agus ag cuid de na múinteoirí forsta. | In the future every pupil will have good computing skills and so will some of the teachers. | | |
