Ulster Folk & Transport Museum

TITANICA

Experience All Things Titanic

go deeper at nmni.com

Follow the trail through a hundred years of TITANICa.

A museum of international renown, the Ulster Folk & Transport Museum is regarded as being amongst the best of its kind in the world. Set in over 170 acres of rolling countryside overlooking Belfast Lough, you can wander through the past and discover how people lived and travelled over a century ago. Climb aboard majestic steam locomotives or experience the sensational story of Titanic in the Transport Museum. Then discover town and countryside with authentic cottages, farms, schools and shops of the Folk Museum.

TITANICa The Exhibition

Featuring more than 500 original artefacts, including RMS Titanic objects from the seabed, here you'll discover why Titanic and her sister ships Olympic and Britannic were built in Belfast and how local enterprise and skills produced these extraordinary vessels. Experience life on board through fascinating objects and personal stories that explore the tragic loss of Titanic in 1912.

TITANICa The People's Story

At the outdoor Folk Museum, you can explore a living history of Titanic and experience people's daily routines, activities and stories in the period before, during and after it's maiden voyage.

Explore the museum's unique and extensive collection of Titanic artefacts in two adventures nearly as epic as the ship itself.
