

A Level Law

H415/03 Further law

Sample Question Paper

Date – Morning/Afternoon

Time allowed: 2 hours

OCR supplied materials:

- Printed Answer Booklet

You must use:

- Printed Answer Booklet
- A pen

INSTRUCTIONS

- Write your name, centre number and candidate number in the spaces provided on the Answer Booklet. Please write clearly and in capital letters.
- Answer four questions in total:
Section A: answer one question using examples from your full course of study.
Section B: Select the option you have studied, choose Part 1 or Part 2 and answer the three questions below.
- Do not write in the bar codes.

INFORMATION

- The total mark for this paper is 100.
- The marks for each question are shown in brackets [].
- Quality of extended response will be assessed in those questions marked with an asterisk (*).
- This document consists of 8 pages.

SECTION A

The nature of law

Answer one question using examples from your full course of study.

1* 'The law should enforce morality'.

Discuss the extent to which you agree with this statement.

[25]

2* 'Privacy and data protection are the greatest technological challenges facing the law'.

Discuss the extent to which this statement is accurate.

[25]

SPECIMEN

SECTION B

Select the option you have studied:

- OPTION 1: human rights law or
OPTION 2: law of contract

Then choose Part 1 or Part 2 from the option you have studied.

OPTION 1: Human rights lawPart 1

Answer the three questions below.

The first two questions are based on the scenarios below. The scenarios are not related.

Pavel Wronski is a famous artist and anti-war campaigner who uses photography and video to create controversial works of art. His latest exhibition is about the atrocities of war. It contains many pictures and film clips taken from the aftermath of the recent bombing of a city involved in an ongoing conflict. Some of the pictures and film clips are shocking. Many of the images are available on the internet. The exhibition divides opinion. Some people claim it is a challenging but vital work whilst many others are offended and outraged. The local council asks Pavel to remove the most offending images. He refuses to make changes to his work claiming this is 'an act of censorship'. The council imposes a temporary suspension of the gallery's licence. This effectively closes the exhibition.

A famous actress, Sophia Battista, has struggled with depression and drug addiction in recent years. She booked herself into a recovery centre for treatment. The family kept this information secret in order to give her the best chance of recovery. A nurse working at the centre recently contacted Galaxy magazine with details about Sophia's treatment. A photographer secretly took some very intrusive photographs of Sophia looking distressed and unwell as she attempts to recover. Galaxy plans to print them and run the story in its next edition. Sophia has become aware of the photographs. She is very distressed about the possibility that details of her personal life will be published. She asks the court for an injunction to prevent publication.

- 3 Advise whether Pavel has a strong legal case to challenge the ban or whether the council can prevent him from exhibiting.

[25]

- 4 Advise how Sophia could use Article 8 ECHR to secure an injunction against Galaxy.

[25]

Essay question on human rights law

- 5 Discuss the key provisions of the Human Rights Act 1998 and the criticisms made of them. To what extent are the criticisms valid?

[25]

OPTION 1 – Human rights lawPart 2

Answer the three questions below.

The first two questions are based on the scenarios below. The scenarios are related.

Jacob and Max are brothers taking part in an anti-austerity march in London. About 3000 protestors plan to march peacefully to a rally outside the Bank of England. A smaller group of about 250 anarchists has already gathered outside the Bank of England. Their intention is to use disruptive violence to gain publicity. They are masked and throwing projectiles at the Bank. The chief police officer decides to keep the two groups separated for safety. He orders police to form a tight cordon around the main group of protestors and to keep them penned in until the violence at the bank has been dealt with. This takes well over five hours. Many of the protestors become abusive towards the police. Jacob suffers an asthma attack. He falls to the ground and is knocked unconscious. Max shouts at the police to let his brother out. An officer then strikes Max with a baton before pulling him from the crowd. He is photographed and then taken to a nearby police station along with several other protestors.

On arrival at the police station Max is searched. When he questions a police officer about why he is being detained he is told to 'shut up and keep quiet' if he 'knows what is best' for him. When he refuses to co-operate he is pushed forcibly into an unheated cell. Max is told that he will be kept there until he has calmed down. He is also told that he is suspected of being one of the ringleaders behind the violence. His phone is taken from him. Max is kept overnight in a cell without food. When he asks to see a solicitor he is told that they are 'far too busy' to deal with his request. The following morning he is released along with many other protestors without further explanation or charge.

- 6 Advise whether the police treatment of Jacob and Max during the protest was lawful. Refer to Articles 5 and 11 of the Human Rights Act in your answer.

[25]

- 7 Advise on the possible legal grounds of any challenge Max might make against the police regarding his arrest and detention.

[25]

Essay question on human rights law

- 8 Discuss the key provisions of the Human Rights Act 1998 and the criticisms made of them. To what extent are the criticisms valid?

[25]

OPTION 2 – Law of contractPart 1

Answer the three questions below.

The first two questions are based on the scenarios below. The scenarios are not related.

Danny owns a café, employing two waiters, Bill and Lucy. Bill becomes unwell. To avoid having to employ any extra staff Danny promises Lucy a bonus if she will do all the work by herself until Bill returns. Lucy works extra hard while Bill is unwell but Danny does not pay her any extra money. One of the waiters normally fetches fresh flowers every day from Sara, a local florist, for the tables in the café. Sara tells Danny that she will bring the flowers to the cafe while Bill is unwell. When Bill returns to work Danny says he will pay Sara some money for making these deliveries. When Sara asks for this payment Danny refuses.

Sanjit wants to buy a new car for driving his children to school. He goes to a car showroom and Geoff, a salesman, shows him a model which includes built in satellite navigation. Sanjit places an order for the car at a special promotion price. When it arrives it does not have the satellite navigation system. Sanjit questions this at the car dealership and is told that this item is only found on more expensive models. When Sanjit takes out insurance for the car he does not tell the insurance company that he had an accident the previous year. This information was not requested by the insurance company and Sanjit did not realise that he should have told them. The insurance company would have charged a lot more if they had known about the accident.

- 9 Advise whether Lucy or Sara have given good consideration for Danny's promises. [25]
- 10 Advise whether Sanjit has the right to return the car and what the rights of the insurance company are with respect to Sanjit not mentioning his previous conviction. [25]

Essay question on the law of contract

- 11* Discuss the extent to which the rules on intention to create legal relations are in need of reform. [25]

OPTION 2 – Law of contractPart 2

Answer the three questions below.

The first two questions are based on the scenarios below. The scenarios are not related.

Dylan sends an email to Ella on Monday offering to sell her a painting. He says he will leave the offer open until 5.00 pm on Tuesday. Later on Monday Dylan receives a better offer for the painting from an Ella's friend Mike and sells it to him. On Monday evening Ella sees a picture of Mike with his new painting on Mike's social media feed. Ella emails Dylan at 9.00 pm to accept his offer. The following week, Dylan phones Wendy on the Monday offering to sell her a sculpture and she agrees to buy it. The next day Dylan receives a higher offer and phones Wendy to say he can no longer sell it to her.

Abacus is a company which supplies IT equipment. It has a contract to supply Beaches, a company which is located on an island. The easiest way to get to the island is by aeroplane, however a hurricane has damaged the airport and no planes can land for a month. It would cost three times as much to take the equipment to the island by boat and Abacus would lose money on the contract. Abacus also has a contract with Sportius to supply and fit timing equipment for a major sports event. Sportius has paid half the contract price in advance, the rest is due when the equipment has been fitted. Half way through the process of installing the equipment there is a fire which destroys the venue. This results in the event being cancelled. Neither Abacus nor Sportius are responsible for causing the fire.

- 12 Advise whether there has been an offer and acceptance between Dylan and Ella and Dylan and Wendy. [25]
- 13 Advise whether Abacus' contracts with Beaches and with Sportius can be treated as frustrated and the financial consequences which would arise if they are. [25]

Essay question on the law of contract

- 14 Discuss the extent to which the rules on intention to create legal relations are in need of reform. [25]

BLANK PAGE

SPECIMEN

SPECIMEN

Copyright Information:

OCR is committed to seeking permission to reproduce all third-party content that it uses in the assessment materials. OCR has attempted to identify and contact all copyright holders whose work is used in this paper. To avoid the issue of disclosure of answer-related information to candidates, all copyright acknowledgements are reproduced in the OCR Copyright Acknowledgements booklet. This is produced for each series of examinations and is freely available to download from our public website (www.ocr.org.uk) after the live examination series.

If OCR has unwittingly failed to correctly acknowledge or clear any third-party content in this assessment material, OCR will be happy to correct its mistake at the earliest possible opportunity.

For queries or further information please contact the Copyright Team, First Floor, 9 Hills Road, Cambridge CB2 1GE.

OCR is part of the Cambridge Assessment Group; Cambridge Assessment is the brand name of University of Cambridge Local Examinations Syndicate (UCLES), which is itself a department of the University of Cambridge.

...day June 20XX – Morning/Afternoon

A Level Law

H415/03 Further law

SAMPLE MARK SCHEME

Duration: 2 hours

MAXIMUM MARK 100

This document consists of 34 pages

SUBJECT-SPECIFIC MARKING INSTRUCTIONS

Introduction

Your first task as an Examiner is to become thoroughly familiar with the material on which the examination depends. You should ensure that you have copies of these materials:

- the specification, especially the assessment objectives
- the question paper and its rubrics
- the mark scheme.

You should ensure also that you are familiar with the administrative procedures related to the marking process. These are set out in the OCR booklet Instructions for Examiners. If you are examining for the first time, please read carefully Appendix 5 Introduction to Script Marking: Notes for New Examiners. Please ask for help or guidance whenever you need it. Your first point of contact is your Team Leader.

Information and instructions for examiners

The co-ordination scripts provide you with examples of the standard of each band. The marks awarded for these scripts will have been agreed by the Team Leaders and will be discussed fully at the Examiners' Co-ordination Meeting.

The specific task-related indicative content for each question will help you to understand how the band descriptors may be applied. However, this indicative content does not constitute the mark scheme: it is material that candidates might use, grouped according to each assessment objective tested by the question. It is hoped that candidates will respond to questions in a variety of ways. Rigid demands for 'what must be a good answer' would lead to a distorted assessment. Candidates' answers must be relevant to the question. Beware of prepared answers that do not show the candidate's thought and which have not been adapted to the thrust of the question. Beware also of answers where candidates attempt to reproduce interpretations and concepts that they have been taught but have only partially understood.

Using the Mark Scheme

Please study this Mark Scheme carefully. The Mark Scheme is an integral part of the process that begins with the setting of the question paper and ends with the awarding of grades. Question papers and Mark Schemes are developed in association with each other so that issues of differentiation and positive achievement can be addressed from the very start.

This Mark Scheme is a working document; it is not exhaustive; it does not provide 'correct' answers. The Mark Scheme can only provide 'best guesses' about how the question will work out, and it is subject to revision after we have looked at a wide range of scripts.

The Examiners' Standardisation Meeting will ensure that the Mark Scheme covers the range of candidates' responses to the questions, and that all Examiners understand and apply the Mark Scheme in the same way. The Mark Scheme will be discussed and amended at the meeting, and administrative procedures will be confirmed. Co-ordination scripts will be issued at the meeting to exemplify aspects of candidates' responses and achievements; the co-ordination scripts then become part of this Mark Scheme.

Before the Standardisation Meeting, you should read and mark in pencil a number of scripts, in order to gain an impression of the range of responses and achievement that may be expected.

Please read carefully all the scripts in your allocation and make every effort to look positively for achievement throughout the ability range. Always be prepared to use the full range of marks.

Assessment Objectives

Three Assessment Objectives are being assessed across the questions: AO1: Demonstrate knowledge and understanding of the English legal system and legal rules and principles, AO2: Apply legal rules and principles to given scenarios in order to present a legal argument using appropriate legal terminology, AO3: Analyse and evaluate legal rules, principles, concepts and issues.

For AO2, there are two elements to the assessment objective:

- Apply legal rules and principles to given scenarios
- Present a legal argument using appropriate legal terminology

These two elements should have equal weighting and be awarded jointly according to the guidance given in the level descriptors and indicative content. For example, to achieve level 4, an answer should include excellent application of legal rules and principles and excellent presentation of legal argument. Further guidance will be given in the standardisation meeting when there is an uneven performance across the elements.

Levels of Response

Questions in this paper are marked using a levels of response grid. When using this grid, examiners must use a best-fit approach. Where there are both strengths and weaknesses in a particular response, particularly imbalanced responses in terms of the assessment objectives, examiners must carefully consider which level is the best fit for the performance. Note that candidates can achieve different levels in each assessment objective, for example a Level 3 for AO1, and a Level 2 for AO2.

To use these grids:

Determine the level: start at the highest level and work down until you reach the level that matches the answer.

Determine the mark within the level: consider the following:

Descriptor	Award mark
On the borderline of this level and the one below	At bottom of level
Just enough achievement on balance for this level	Above bottom and either below middle or at middle of level (depending on number of marks available)
Meets the criteria but with some slight inconsistency	Above middle and either below top of level or at middle of level (depending on number of marks available)
Consistently meets the criteria for this level	At top of level

ASSESSMENT OBJECTIVES: BREAKDOWN BY QUESTIONSection AQuestions 1, 2

Assessment Objectives:	AO1: Demonstrate knowledge and understanding of the English legal system and legal rules and principles. 10 marks. AO3 1b: Analyse and evaluate legal concepts and issues. 15 marks.
------------------------	---

Section BQuestions 3, 4, 6, 7, 9, 10, 12 and 13

Assessment Objectives:	AO1: Demonstrate knowledge and understanding of the English legal system and legal rules and principles. 10 marks. AO2 1a/1b: Apply legal rules and principles to given scenarios in order to present a legal argument using appropriate legal terminology. 15 marks.
------------------------	--

Questions 5, 8, 11 and 14

Assessment Objectives:	AO1: Demonstrate knowledge and understanding of the English legal system and legal rules and principles. 10 marks. AO3 1a: Analyse and evaluate legal rules and principles. 15 marks.
------------------------	--

Questions that have an asterisk (*) assess the quality of a candidate's extended response. Levels descriptors are identified in the AO3 column in italics.

Mark scheme continued on page 6.

SPECIMEN

Section A

1* 'The law should enforce morality'. Discuss the extent to which you agree with this statement.

Assessment Objectives	AO1: Demonstrate knowledge and understanding of the English legal system and legal rules and principles. 10 marks. AO3 1b: Analyse and evaluate legal concepts and issues. 15 marks.
Additional guidance	The 'indicative content' is an example of valid content. Any other valid content is acceptable and should be credited in line with the levels of response. It is not expected for candidates to cover all of the indicative content.

AO1 Indicative content

Answers may include:

The distinction between law and morals

- Definition of legal rules e.g. John Salmon, John Austin, H. Hart or Karl Llewellyn and definitions of morals e.g. Durkheim or Philip Harris.

The legal enforcement of moral values

- Examples of laws that enforce morals (human rights, common law examples, statutory examples)

The diversity of moral views in a pluralist society

- Examples of controversial laws made by parliament and judges.
- How morality changes over time e.g. marital rape was not a crime until 1991.
- Pluralist societies contain a wide range of moral standards and values making it very difficult or impossible for the law to please everyone. Describe the main points of the Hart/Devlin debate using examples of laws supporting Devlin and laws which support Hart.
- Describe the Fuller/Hart debate.

The relationship between law and morals and its importance

- Theories of law and morals e.g. Natural law theorists (Aristotle, Aquinas, Fuller) and Positivist (Bentham), the overlap between law and morals, the divergence of laws and morals.

Examples from the whole course of study.

Credit any other relevant point(s).

AO3 Indicative content

Answers may:

- Discuss the difficulty of defining moral values in a pluralist society and how the law struggles to please everyone.
- Consider how politicians avoid passing controversial laws that will divide society and could change the way people vote.
- Discuss the use of Private Members' Bills as a way to pass controversial laws without the political parties having to state their position.
- Discuss how morality usually moves at a much faster pace and the law struggles to keep up with the views of society.
- Discuss the role of judges making moral decisions from a narrow social background. Consider criticisms of the judiciary being 'out of touch'.
- Discuss the strength and weaknesses of the views of Devlin's desire for the law to uphold a common morality to ensure society does not disintegrate. Compare with the utilitarian approach of Hart and his desire for the law to respect personal autonomy.
- Discuss the opposing views of Fuller and Hart.
- Discuss the strengths and weaknesses of the natural law theorists and the positivists.
- Discuss the difficulties of trying to enforce morals using the law and conclude whether the law should try to do this and how well it achieves it.

Credit any other relevant point(s).

	AO1	Mark	AO3 1b	Mark
Level 4	Excellent knowledge and understanding of the English legal system, rules and principles. The response is accurate, fully developed and detailed. There will be excellent citation of fully relevant statutes and case law.	9–10	Excellent analysis and evaluation of a wide range of legal concepts and issues. The response is wide ranging and has a well sustained focus on the question. The key points are fully discussed and fully developed to reach a valid conclusion. There is a well-developed line of reasoning which is clear and logically structured. The information presented is relevant and substantiated.	12–15
Level 3	Good knowledge and understanding of the English legal system, rules and principles. The response is detailed, but not fully developed in places. There will be good citation of mostly relevant statutes and case law.	6–8	Good analysis and evaluation of a range of legal concepts and issues. The response has a mainly consistent focus on the question. Most of the key points are well discussed and well developed to reach a valid conclusion. There is a line of reasoning presented with some structure. The information presented is in the most-part relevant and supported by some evidence.	8–11
Level 2	Basic knowledge and understanding of the English legal system, rules and principles. The response may lack detail in places and is partially developed. There will be some reference to statutes and case law.	3–5	Basic analysis and evaluation of legal concepts and issues. The response is partially focused on the question. Some of the key points are discussed and partially developed to reach a basic conclusion. The information has some relevance and is presented with a basic structure. The information is supported by basic evidence.	4–7
Level 1	Limited knowledge and understanding of the English legal system, rules and principles. The response will have minimal detail. Citation of statutes and case law is limited.	1–2	Limited analysis of legal concepts and/or issues. The response has limited focus on the question. Discussion of any key points is minimal. The information is limited and communicated in an unstructured way. The information is supported by limited evidence and the relationship to the evidence may not be clear.	1–3
Level 0	No response or no response worthy of credit.	0	No response or no response worthy of credit.	0

2* 'Privacy and data protection are the greatest technological challenges facing the law'. Discuss the extent to which this statement is accurate.

Assessment Objectives	AO1: Demonstrate knowledge and understanding of the English legal system and legal rules and principles. 10 marks. AO3 1b: Analyse and evaluate legal concepts and issues. 15 marks.
Additional guidance	The 'indicative content' is an example of valid content. Any other valid content is acceptable and should be credited in line with the levels of response. It is not expected for candidates to cover all of the indicative content.

AO1 Indicative content

Answers may:

- Describe the law relating to privacy and data protection, e.g. CCTV, ANPR, biometrics, RFID, location data, data protection, and the Investigatory Powers Bill 2016. Credit any other relevant examples of privacy and data protection using examples from the study of human rights law
- Describe the law relating to cybercrime, e.g. the Computer Misuse Act 1990, hacking viruses, criminal damage, mail-bombing and web defacement, identity theft and identity fraud. Credit any other relevant examples of cybercrime using examples from the study of criminal law
- Describe the law relating to e-commerce, e.g. electronic contracts, the Electronic Commerce (EC Directive) Regulations 2002, communicating acceptance and electronic payment methods (Electronic Money Directive 2000 and 2009). Credit any other relevant examples of e-commerce using examples from the study of contract law
- Describe the law relating to artificial intelligence, e.g. driverless cars and implications for negligence claims. Credit any other relevant examples of artificial intelligence using examples from the study of tort law.

Credit any other relevant point(s).

AO3 Indicative content

Answers may:

- Discuss how privacy and data protection are the greatest technological challenges facing the law with suggestions for reform:
 - Discuss the expansion of the use of CCTV etc. Consider how this can breach rights of privacy but can also make society safer
 - Discuss the problems associated with catching identity thieves
 - Investigatory Powers Bill 2016 – fears of the expansions of power that will be given to the government and GCHQ.
- Discuss how other types technological advancements might instead be the greatest challenges facing the law:
 - Cybercrime – the difficulties faced by the law tracking and prosecuting hackers. Cross-border issues including extradition treaties
 - E-commerce – the difficulty applying the law of contract to electronic contracts. The lack of case law on these issues. Possible problems arising from

- cross-border transactions where countries have different interpretations of electronic contract formation
- Artificial intelligence – issues of liability when something goes wrong. Possible hacking of AI systems. Ethical issues left in the hands of AI.

Credit any other relevant point(s).

	AO1	Mark	AO3 1b	Mark
Level 4	Excellent knowledge and understanding of the English legal system, rules and principles. The response is accurate, fully developed and detailed. There will be excellent citation of fully relevant statutes and case law.	9–10	Excellent analysis and evaluation of a wide range of legal concepts and issues. The response is wide ranging and has a well sustained focus on the question. The key points are fully discussed and fully developed to reach a valid conclusion. There is a well-developed line of reasoning which is clear and logically structured. The information presented is relevant and substantiated.	12–15
Level 3	Good knowledge and understanding of the English legal system, rules and principles. The response is detailed, but not fully developed in places. There will be good citation of mostly relevant statutes and case law.	6–8	Good analysis and evaluation of a range of legal concepts and issues. The response has a mainly consistent focus on the question. Most of the key points are well discussed and well developed to reach a valid conclusion. There is a line of reasoning presented with some structure. The information presented is in the most-part relevant and supported by some evidence.	8–11
Level 2	Basic knowledge and understanding of the English legal system, rules and principles. The response may lack detail in places and is partially developed. There will be some reference to statutes and case law.	3–5	Basic analysis and evaluation of legal concepts and issues. The response is partially focused on the question. Some of the key points are discussed and partially developed to reach a basic conclusion. The information has some relevance and is presented with a basic structure. The information is supported by basic evidence.	4–7
Level 1	Limited knowledge and understanding of the English legal system, rules and principles. The response will have minimal detail. Citation of statutes and case law is limited.	1–2	Limited analysis of legal concepts and/or issues. The response has limited focus on the question. Discussion of any key points is minimal. The information is limited and communicated in an unstructured way. The information is supported by limited evidence and the relationship to the evidence may not be clear.	1–3
Level 0	No response or no response worthy of credit.	0	No response or no response worthy of credit.	0

Section B

3 Advise whether Pavel has a strong legal case to challenge the ban or whether the council can prevent him from exhibiting.

Assessment Objectives	AO1: Demonstrate knowledge and understanding of the English legal system and legal rules and principles. 10 marks. AO2: Apply legal rules and principles to given scenarios in order to present a legal argument using appropriate legal terminology. 15 marks.
Additional guidance	The 'indicative content' is an example of valid content. Any other valid content is acceptable and should be credited in line with the levels of response. It is not expected for candidates to cover all of the indicative content.

AO1 Indicative content

Answers may include the following:

Prerequisites:

- Action against the local authority to be pursued by judicial review or as an element to another claim.

The relevant rights infringed:

- Article 10 ECnHR Freedom of expression 'the cornerstone of any democratic society'
- Includes artistic expression – films, painting, radio television etc.
- Relevant cases may include: Handyside v UK (1979-80), Otto-Preminger v Austria (1994) wide margin of appreciation in artistic expression case, Observer v UK (1992) Spycatcher case, Steel v UK (1999) Freedom of expression by way of protest was included in Article 10, Hashman and Harrup v UK (2000)
- S12 (4) HRA 1998 special importance granted to artistic expression.

Relevant limitations:

- Limitations - Article 10(2) National security, preventing disorder or crime, protecting health or morals, protecting the reputation or rights of others.

Credit reference to the common law offence of 'outraging public decency', Gibson and Sylveire (1991).

Credit any other relevant point(s).

AO2 Indicative content

Answers may include:

- Basis of Pavel's claim will be Article 10
- Article 10 extends this to 'any media regardless of frontiers'
- Clearly covers Pavel's works of art
- Courts reluctant to restrict this freedom due its particular significance as an 'intrinsic and instrumental right'
- s12 (4) HRA 1998 also emphasises the particular importance of artistic expression. Images are already in the public domain on the internet
- Article 10 may still cover offensive expression: Pavel's work has clearly caused offense to many, but this alone will not mean it can be banned
- Article 10 creates 'duties and responsibilities'. Has Pavel met his responsibilities?
- Article 10(2) Limitations. 'Prescribed by law'. Apply to Pavel. Under Gibson v Sylveire he may be committing a common law offence
- 'Necessary in a democratic society'. Strongest argument may be on moral grounds
- Margin of appreciation in artistic expression quite broad.

Credit any sensible conclusion.

Credit any other relevant point(s).

	AO1	Mark	AO2 1a/1b	Mark
Level 4	Excellent knowledge and understanding of the English legal system, rules and principles. The response is accurate, fully developed and detailed. There will be excellent citation of fully relevant statutes and case law.	9–10	Excellent application of legal rules to a given scenario. Excellent presentation of a legal argument which is accurate, fully developed and detailed. Fully appropriate legal terminology is used.	12–15
Level 3	Good knowledge and understanding of the English legal system, rules and principles. The response is detailed, but not fully developed in places. There will be good citation of mostly relevant statutes and case law.	6–8	Good application of legal rules to a given scenario. Good presentation of a legal argument which is detailed but not fully developed in places. Appropriate legal terminology is used.	8–11
Level 2	Basic knowledge and understanding of the English legal system, rules and principles. The response may lack detail in places and is partially developed. There will be some reference to statutes and case law.	3–5	Basic application of legal rules to a given scenario. Basic presentation of a legal argument which may lack detail in places and is partially developed. Some appropriate legal terminology is used.	4–7
Level 1	Limited knowledge and understanding of the English legal system, rules and principles. The response will have minimal detail. Citation of statutes and case law is limited.	1–2	Limited application of legal rules to a given scenario. Limited presentation of a legal argument which has minimal detail and is unstructured and/or unclear. Minimal legal terminology is used.	1–3
Level 0	No response or no response worthy of credit.	0	No response or no response worthy of credit.	0

4 Advise how Sophia could use Article 8 ECHR to secure an injunction against Galaxy.

Assessment Objectives	AO1: Demonstrate knowledge and understanding of the English legal system and legal rules and principles. 10 marks. AO2: Apply legal rules and principles to given scenarios in order to present a legal argument using appropriate legal terminology. 15 marks.
Additional guidance	The 'indicative content' is an example of valid content. Any other valid content is acceptable and should be credited in line with the levels of response. It is not expected for candidates to cover all of the indicative content.

AO1 Indicative content

Answers may include:

Prerequisites:

- Sophia may apply for an injunction preventing publication invoking Article 8. Courts will balance this against Article 10.

Relevant rights considered:

- Press freedom is protected under Article 10 ECHR
- In the loose hierarchy of rights it comes close to the top
- s12 (4) HRA 1998. Places special importance on journalistic expression
- A v B (2000): Flitcroft guidelines
- Relevant cases: Wainwright v Home Secretary (2003), Campbell v MGN (2004), Thompson and Venables v News Corp (2001), Mills v News Group Newspapers Ltd (2001), CC v AB (2006), Mosley v News Group Newspapers Ltd (2008).

Relevant limitations:

- Limitations possible under Article 10(2)
- May be formalities, conditions, restrictions and penalties as prescribed by law and necessary in a democratic society.

Credit any other relevant point(s).

AO2 Indicative content

Answers may include:

- Press freedom is highly rated under Article 10 and s12(4) HRA 1998
- Any interference under Article 10(2) will need to be justified regardless of whether it is in the public interest
- Galaxy will be advised that decisions in this area are finely balanced
- Sophie has withdrawn from the public eye to raise family; she is particularly vulnerable and seeks to protect herself and her family against intrusion
- Does she have a reasonable expectation of privacy?
- Apply the cases above to reach any sensible conclusion.

Credit any other relevant point(s).

	AO1	Mark	AO2 1a/1b	Mark
Level 4	Excellent knowledge and understanding of the English legal system, rules and principles. The response is accurate, fully developed and detailed. There will be excellent citation of fully relevant statutes and case law.	9–10	Excellent application of legal rules to a given scenario. Excellent presentation of a legal argument which is accurate, fully developed and detailed. Fully appropriate legal terminology is used.	12–15
Level 3	Good knowledge and understanding of the English legal system, rules and principles. The response is detailed, but not fully developed in places. There will be good citation of mostly relevant statutes and case law.	6–8	Good application of legal rules to a given scenario. Good presentation of a legal argument which is detailed but not fully developed in places. Appropriate legal terminology is used.	8–11
Level 2	Basic knowledge and understanding of the English legal system, rules and principles. The response may lack detail in places and is partially developed. There will be some reference to statutes and case law.	3–5	Basic application of legal rules to a given scenario. Basic presentation of a legal argument which may lack detail in places and is partially developed. Some appropriate legal terminology is used.	4–7
Level 1	Limited knowledge and understanding of the English legal system, rules and principles. The response will have minimal detail. Citation of statutes and case law is limited.	1–2	Limited application of legal rules to a given scenario. Limited presentation of a legal argument which has minimal detail and is unstructured and/or unclear. Minimal legal terminology is used.	1–3
Level 0	No response or no response worthy of credit.	0	No response or no response worthy of credit.	0

5* Discuss the key provisions of the Human Rights Act 1998 and the criticisms made of them. To what extent are the criticisms valid?

Assessment Objectives	AO1: Demonstrate knowledge and understanding of the English legal system and legal rules and principles. 10 marks. AO3 1a: Analyse and evaluate legal rules and principles. 15 marks.
Additional guidance	The 'indicative content' is an example of valid content. Any other valid content is acceptable and should be credited in line with the levels of response. It is not expected for candidates to cover all of the indicative content.

AO1 Indicative content

Answers may include:

- Rationale for the Act: 'Bringing Rights Home'. Making ECHR directly available in UK courts.
- Key Provisions of the Act
 - s1 Incorporating ECHR rights into domestic law
 - s2 Courts must 'take into account' prior decisions of ECHR where relevant
 - s3 Interpretation of domestic legislation: Need for compatibility of domestic and primary legislation with the ECHR
 - s4 Declaration of incompatibility when the court determine that it is incompatible with a Convention right
 - s6 Unlawful for 'public authority' to act in a manner which is incompatible with Convention rights
 - s7 Limitations on who may bring a claim
 - s8 Remedies
- Credit cases illustrating contentious application of the Act, e.g. Bellinger v Bellinger (2003)
- Reference to theory of human rights law, e.g. natural justice, universality, rule of law, due process.

Credit any other relevant point(s).

AO3 Indicative content

Answers may include:

- Increased tension between judiciary and Parliament. Does HRA give judges potential to usurp sovereignty of Parliament?
- s2 'Take into account prior decision of ECtHR'. Conflicting approaches: R (Alconbury) v Secretary of State for the Environment (2001), Kay v Lambeth (2006) – does not change the normal rules of precedent
- s3(1) Compliance. Puts strain on judges to interpret legislation to avoid declarations of incompatibility.

Contentious areas:

- Absolute nature of rights
- Proposal to give the right to vote to prisoners. Heavily criticised
- Difficulties of repatriating criminals due to Article 8; dubbed a 'Criminals charter' by the press

- Development of a law of privacy disliked by the press as limiting freedom of speech
- Counter-terrorism measures and HRA
- Indefinite detention powers in the Anti-Terrorism Crime and Security Act 2001
- A and Ors v Secretary of State for the Home Department (2005) This led to the passage of the Prevention of Terrorism Act 2005
- Proposal for a 'British Bill of Rights' Conservative manifesto 2014
- Repeal of the Act would see a reversion to the cumbersome appeals to Strasbourg
- Repeal could damage devolution arrangements in Scotland and Wales which are predicated on ECHR. Also Good Friday agreement in NI based on incorporation of ECHR
- Link made to human rights law theory relevant to the focus of the question.

Credit any other relevant point(s).

	AO1	Mark	AO3 1a	Mark
Level 4	Excellent knowledge and understanding of the English legal system, rules and principles. The response is accurate, fully developed and detailed. There will be excellent citation of fully relevant statutes and case law.	9–10	Excellent analysis and evaluation of a wide range of legal rules and principles. The response is wide ranging and has a well sustained focus on the question. The key points are fully discussed and fully developed to reach a valid conclusion. There is a well-developed line of reasoning which is clear and logically structured. The information presented is relevant and substantiated.	12–15
Level 3	Good knowledge and understanding of the English legal system, rules and principles. The response is detailed, but not fully developed in places. There will be good citation of mostly relevant statutes and case law.	6–8	Good analysis and evaluation of a range of legal rules and principles. The response has a mainly consistent focus on the question. Most of the key points are well discussed and well developed to reach a valid conclusion. There is a line of reasoning presented with some structure. The information presented is in the most-part relevant and supported by some evidence.	8–11
Level 2	Basic knowledge and understanding of the English legal system, rules and principles. The response may lack detail in places and is partially developed. There will be some reference to statutes and case law.	3–5	Basic analysis and evaluation of legal rules and principles. The response is partially focused on the question. Some of the key points are discussed and partially developed to reach a basic conclusion. The information has some relevance and is presented with a basic structure. The information is supported by basic evidence.	4–7
Level 1	Limited knowledge and understanding of the English legal system, rules and principles. The response will have minimal detail. Citation of statutes and case law is limited.	1–2	Limited analysis of legal rules and principles. The response has limited focus on the question. Discussion of any key points is minimal. The information is limited and communicated in an unstructured way. The information is supported by limited evidence and the relationship to the evidence may not be clear.	1–3
Level 0	No response or no response worthy of credit.	0	No response or no response worthy of credit.	0

- 6 Advise whether the police treatment of Jacob and Max during the protest was lawful. Refer to Articles 5 and 11 of the Human Rights Act in your answer.

Assessment Objectives	AO1: Demonstrate knowledge and understanding of the English legal system and legal rules and principles. 10 marks. AO2: Apply legal rules and principles to given scenarios in order to present a legal argument using appropriate legal terminology. 15 marks.
Additional guidance	The 'indicative content' is an example of valid content. Any other valid content is acceptable and should be credited in line with the levels of response. It is not expected for candidates to cover all of the indicative content.

AO1 Indicative content

Answers may include:

- Article 5 The right to liberty and security of person
- Complex right subject to many provisos:
 - Detention after due process/failure to comply with a court order/reasonable suspicion of having committed a crime/prevention of commission of a crime/prevent flight/detention of a minor/public health grounds/extradition/deportation
- Relevant case law includes: Guzzardi v Italy (1981), Cheshire West and Chester Council v P (2014) UKSC, Austin v UK (2015), JE v DE aka Re DE (2006)
- Article 11 Right to freedom of peaceful assembly and association
- Subject to qualifications under Art 11(2):
 - Prescribed by law/necessary in a democratic society/interests of national security or public safety/prevention of disorder or crime/protection of health or morals/protection of rights and freedoms of others
- Relevant cases include:
 - Mengesha v Commissioner of Police of the Metropolis (2013): Containment to prevent a breach of the peace was lawful but not retention of photographs and details
 - Breach of the peace. Definition in R v Howell (1981)
 - R (on the application of Laporte) v Chief Constable of Gloucestershire Constabulary (2006) – public protest and breach of the peace.
- Credit reference to false imprisonment.

Credit any other relevant point(s).

AO2 Indicative content

Answers may include:

- Max and Jacob may have a case for judicial review under either Article 11 or Article 5
- Criteria for deprivation of liberty has been met:
- “..under continuous supervision and control and not free to leave...” per Lady Hale in Cheshire West (2014)

- Was the police action in containing the protestors taken in good faith and was it proportionate to the threat of possible violence? Austin & Another v Commissioner of Police of the Metropolis (2009). The police action here appears to have been based on a fear of violence spreading
- Was the threat imminent? If the protestors had continued their march they would have soon joined with the violent mob
- Had the police exhausted all other steps?
- Was the detention proportionate?
- Whether 5 hours detention is proportionate is debatable, but highly likely. In Austin v UK – question was one of ‘degree and intensity’. Individuals were not deprived of liberty under Article 5(1)
- Courts cannot use hindsight to assess the reasonableness of the decision. It is the perspective of the Police at the time which is relevant
- Also in R (on the application of Moos) v Commissioner of Police for the Metropolis (2012) ‘kettling’ was legitimate under extreme circumstance
- Police may however justify their actions as preventing an anticipated breach of the peace. Mengesha v Commissioner of the Police (2013). Photographs should be destroyed
- Their actions were needed to protect the public and or prevent crime.

Credit any other relevant point(s).

	AO1	Mark	AO2 1a/1b	Mark
Level 4	Excellent knowledge and understanding of the English legal system, rules and principles. The response is accurate, fully developed and detailed. There will be excellent citation of fully relevant statutes and case law.	9–10	Excellent application of legal rules to a given scenario. Excellent presentation of a legal argument which is accurate, fully developed and detailed. Fully appropriate legal terminology is used.	12–15
Level 3	Good knowledge and understanding of the English legal system, rules and principles. The response is detailed, but not fully developed in places. There will be good citation of mostly relevant statutes and case law.	6–8	Good application of legal rules to a given scenario. Good presentation of a legal argument which is detailed but not fully developed in places. Appropriate legal terminology is used.	8–11
Level 2	Basic knowledge and understanding of the English legal system, rules and principles. The response may lack detail in places and is partially developed. There will be some reference to statutes and case law.	3–5	Basic application of legal rules to a given scenario. Basic presentation of a legal argument which may lack detail in places and is partially developed. Some appropriate legal terminology is used.	4–7
Level 1	Limited knowledge and understanding of the English legal system, rules and principles. The response will have minimal detail. Citation of statutes and case law is limited.	1–2	Limited application of legal rules to a given scenario. Limited presentation of a legal argument which has minimal detail and is unstructured and/or unclear. Minimal legal terminology is used.	1–3
Level 0	No response or no response worthy of credit.	0	No response or no response worthy of credit.	0

7 Advise on the possible legal grounds of any challenge Max might make against the police regarding his arrest and detention.

Assessment Objectives	AO1: Demonstrate knowledge and understanding of the English legal system and legal rules and principles. 10 marks. AO2: Apply legal rules and principles to given scenarios in order to present a legal argument using appropriate legal terminology. 15 marks.
Additional guidance	The 'indicative content' is an example of valid content. Any other valid content is acceptable and should be credited in line with the levels of response. It is not expected for candidates to cover all of the indicative content.

AO1 Indicative content

Answers may include:

- Historical right: Magna Carta 1215 contains a right not to be imprisoned without trial - Habeas corpus.
- Article 5 Right to liberty and security.
- Subject to qualifications:
 - Detention after due process, failure to comply with a court order, reasonable suspicion of having committed/prevention of commission/prevent flight, detention of a minor, public health grounds, extradition/deportation.
 - Criteria as set out in Guzzardi v Italy (1981), Cheshire West and Chester Council (2011), Shimovolos v Russia, Austin v UK (2012).
- Procedure on arrest. Fact of arrest and reasons for arrest must be given – s.28 PACE 1984. Christie v Leachinsky (1947) – failure to do so may amount to false imprisonment.
- Use of caution. Access to a solicitor s.58 PACE 1984, right to inform someone of the fact of arrest s.56 PACE 1984 – R v Samuel (1988).
- Right to consult Codes of Practice.
- Right to review by Custody Officer.

Credit any other relevant point(s).

AO2 Indicative content

Answers may include:

- Max has clearly been deprived of his liberty using the test in Cheshire West (2014). Article 5 provides for situations where this is lawfully done. In this case police appear to be using the power to arrest for a breach of the peace. Mengesha v Commissioner of the Police (2013).
- What evidence existed that Max was responsible for the breach of the peace? Was the police action against Max based on genuine information or was it merely a fishing expedition? Shimovolos v Russia. This would also render it unlawful.
- Was detention necessary and proportionate?
- Were correct procedures followed?

- Max is not given an explanation of why he is being detained. Christie v Leachinsky (1947). This could render his detention unlawful and any subsequent actions by the police as False Imprisonment. It may also render the use of force against Max as a battery.
- Give credit to a discussion that around the fact it is not clear that he has been arrested at all.
- If he has been arrested correct procedures have not been followed: No caution has been given s.34 CJPOA 1994.
- No access to a solicitor or contact has been allowed. There are no reasonable grounds within PACE 1984 to disallow Max these rights.

Credit any other relevant point(s).

	AO1	Mark	AO2 1a/1b	Mark
Level 4	Excellent knowledge and understanding of the English legal system, rules and principles. The response is accurate, fully developed and detailed. There will be excellent citation of fully relevant statutes and case law.	9–10	Excellent application of legal rules to a given scenario. Excellent presentation of a legal argument which is accurate, fully developed and detailed. Fully appropriate legal terminology is used.	12–15
Level 3	Good knowledge and understanding of the English legal system, rules and principles. The response is detailed, but not fully developed in places. There will be good citation of mostly relevant statutes and case law.	6–8	Good application of legal rules to a given scenario. Good presentation of a legal argument which is detailed but not fully developed in places. Appropriate legal terminology is used.	8–11
Level 2	Basic knowledge and understanding of the English legal system, rules and principles. The response may lack detail in places and is partially developed. There will be some reference to statutes and case law.	3–5	Basic application of legal rules to a given scenario. Basic presentation of a legal argument which may lack detail in places and is partially developed. Some appropriate legal terminology is used.	4–7
Level 1	Limited knowledge and understanding of the English legal system, rules and principles. The response will have minimal detail. Citation of statutes and case law is limited.	1–2	Limited application of legal rules to a given scenario. Limited presentation of a legal argument which has minimal detail and is unstructured and/or unclear. Minimal legal terminology is used.	1–3
Level 0	No response or no response worthy of credit.	0	No response or no response worthy of credit.	0

8* Discuss the key provisions of the Human Rights Act 1998 and the criticisms made of them. To what extent are the criticisms valid?

Assessment Objectives	AO1: Demonstrate knowledge and understanding of the English legal system and legal rules and principles. 10 marks. AO3 1a: Analyse and evaluate legal rules and principles. 15 marks.
Additional guidance	The 'indicative content' is an example of valid content. Any other valid content is acceptable and should be credited in line with the levels of response. It is not expected for candidates to cover all of the indicative content.

AO1 Indicative content

Answers may include:

- Rationale for the Act: 'Bringing Rights Home'. Making ECHR directly available in UK courts.
- Key Provisions of the Act
 - s1 Incorporating ECHR rights into domestic law
 - s2 Courts must 'take into account' prior decisions of ECHR where relevant
 - s3 Interpretation of domestic legislation: Need for compatibility of domestic and primary legislation with the ECHR
 - s4 Declaration of incompatibility when the court determine that it is incompatible with a Convention right
 - s6 Unlawful for 'public authority' to act in a manner which is incompatible with Convention rights
 - s7 Limitations on who may bring a claim
 - s8 Remedies
- Credit cases illustrating contentious application of the Act, e.g. Bellinger v Bellinger (2003)
- Reference to theory of human rights law, e.g. natural justice, universality, rule of law, due process.

Credit any other relevant point(s).

AO3 Indicative content

Answers may include:

- Increased tension between judiciary and Parliament. Does HRA give judges potential to usurp sovereignty of Parliament?
- s2 'Take into account prior decision of ECtHR'. Conflicting approaches: R (Alconbury) v Secretary of State for the Environment (2001), Kay v Lambeth (2006) – does not change the normal rules of precedent
- s3(1) Compliance. Puts strain on judges to interpret legislation to avoid declarations of incompatibility.

Contentious areas:

- Absolute nature of rights
- Proposal to give the right to vote to prisoners. Heavily criticised
- Difficulties of repatriating criminals due to Article 8; dubbed a 'Criminals charter' by the Press

- Development of a law of privacy disliked by the Press as limiting freedom of speech
- Counter-terrorism measures and HRA
- Indefinite detention powers in the Anti-Terrorism Crime and Security Act 2001
- A and Ors v Secretary of State for the Home Department (2005) This led to the passage of the Prevention of Terrorism Act 2005
- Proposal for a 'British Bill of Rights' conservative manifesto 2014
- Repeal of the act would see a reversion to the cumbersome appeals to Strasbourg
- Repeal could damage devolution arrangements in Scotland and Wales which are predicated on ECHR. Also Good Friday agreement in NI based on incorporation of ECHR
- Link made to human rights law theory relevant to the focus of the question.

Credit any other relevant point(s).

	AO1	Mark	AO3 1a	Mark
Level 4	Excellent knowledge and understanding of the English legal system, rules and principles. The response is accurate, fully developed and detailed. There will be excellent citation of fully relevant statutes and case law.	9–10	Excellent analysis and evaluation of a wide range of legal rules and principles. The response is wide ranging and has a well sustained focus on the question. The key points are fully discussed and fully developed to reach a valid conclusion. There is a well-developed line of reasoning which is clear and logically structured. The information presented is relevant and substantiated.	12–15
Level 3	Good knowledge and understanding of the English legal system, rules and principles. The response is detailed, but not fully developed in places. There will be good citation of mostly relevant statutes and case law.	6–8	Good analysis and evaluation of a range of legal rules and principles. The response has a mainly consistent focus on the question. Most of the key points are well discussed and well developed to reach a valid conclusion. There is a line of reasoning presented with some structure. The information presented is in the most-part relevant and supported by some evidence.	8–11
Level 2	Basic knowledge and understanding of the English legal system, rules and principles. The response may lack detail in places and is partially developed. There will be some reference to statutes and case law.	3–5	Basic analysis and evaluation of legal rules and principles. The response is partially focused on the question. Some of the key points are discussed and partially developed to reach a basic conclusion. The information has some relevance and is presented with a basic structure. The information is supported by basic evidence.	4–7
Level 1	Limited knowledge and understanding of the English legal system, rules and principles. The response will have minimal detail. Citation of statutes and case law is limited.	1–2	Limited analysis of legal rules and principles. The response has limited focus on the question. Discussion of any key points is minimal. The information is limited and communicated in an unstructured way. The information is supported by limited evidence and the relationship to the evidence may not be clear.	1–3
Level 0	No response or no response worthy of credit.	0	No response or no response worthy of credit.	0

9 Advise whether Lucy or Sara have given good consideration for Danny's promises.

Assessment Objectives	AO1: Demonstrate knowledge and understanding of the English legal system and legal rules and principles. 10 marks. AO2: Apply legal rules and principles to given scenarios in order to present a legal argument using appropriate legal terminology. 15 marks.
Additional guidance	The 'indicative content' is an example of valid content. Any other valid content is acceptable and should be credited in line with the levels of response. It is not expected for candidates to cover all of the indicative content.

AO1 Indicative content

Answers may include:

Explain that each side must give consideration in order to make a contract binding.

Explain that performing an existing obligation does not amount to consideration, Stilk v Myrick.

Explain exceptions to the rule:

- Where an existing obligation has changed because the circumstances have become more difficult, Hartley v Ponsonby
- Where a party gains a benefit or avoids a detriment by making a promise to pay more for an existing obligation, Williams v Roffey.

Explain that consideration must not be past, Roscorla v Thomas

Explain exceptions to the rule:

- Where a reward was in the minds of the parties, Stewart v Casey
- Where the act was requested by the other party, Lampleigh v Braithwaite
- Where the act would have been good consideration if it was not past, Pao On v Lau Yiu Long.

Credit any other relevant point(s).

AO2 Indicative content

Answers may include:

Lucy and Danny

- Identify that Lucy has an existing contractual obligation to work as a waiter and so performing her duties would not normally be seen as good consideration
- Consider whether Lucy is performing an obligation which is significantly different or more difficult when she does Bill's work, conclude that she probably isn't as she is performing a generic task of being a waiter

- Consider whether Danny obtains some benefit or avoids detriment when he offers Lucy extra money to continue working alone, conclude that he probably does as he avoids the need to hire an extra waiter
- Draw any reasonable overall conclusion.

Lucy and Sara

- Identify that Sara's consideration is past at the time that Danny offers to pay her for making the deliveries
- Consider whether Sara was acting at Danny's request, conclude that she wasn't as she offered to make the deliveries
- Draw any reasonable overall conclusion.

Credit any other relevant point(s).

	AO1	Mark	AO2 1a/1b	Mark
Level 4	Excellent knowledge and understanding of the English legal system, rules and principles. The response is accurate, fully developed and detailed. There will be excellent citation of fully relevant case law.	9–10	Excellent application of legal rules to a given scenario. Excellent presentation of a legal argument which is accurate, fully developed and detailed. Fully appropriate legal terminology is used.	12–15
Level 3	Good knowledge and understanding of the English legal system, rules and principles. The response is detailed, but not fully developed in places. There will be good citation of mostly relevant case law.	6–8	Good application of legal rules to a given scenario. Good presentation of a legal argument which is detailed but not fully developed in places. Appropriate legal terminology is used.	8–11
Level 2	Basic knowledge and understanding of the English legal system, rules and principles. The response may lack detail in places and is partially developed. There will be some reference to case law.	3–5	Basic application of legal rules to a given scenario. Basic presentation of a legal argument which may lack detail in places and is partially developed. Some appropriate legal terminology is used.	4–7
Level 1	Limited knowledge and understanding of the English legal system, rules and principles. The response will have minimal detail. Citation of case law is limited.	1–2	Limited application of legal rules to a given scenario. Limited presentation of a legal argument which has minimal detail and is unstructured and/or unclear. Minimal legal terminology is used.	1–3
Level 0	No response or no response worthy of credit.	0	No response or no response worthy of credit.	0

- 10 Advise whether Sanjit has the right to return the car and what the rights of the insurance company are with respect to Sanjit not mentioning his previous conviction.

Assessment Objectives	AO1: Demonstrate knowledge and understanding of the English legal system and legal rules and principles. 10 marks. AO2: Apply legal rules and principles to given scenarios in order to present a legal argument using appropriate legal terminology. 15 marks.
Additional guidance	The 'indicative content' is an example of valid content. Any other valid content is acceptable and should be credited in line with the levels of response. It is not expected for candidates to cover all of the indicative content.

AO1 Indicative content

Answers may include:

Explain that at common law a false statement can be made by the circumstances in which a contract was negotiated, Spice Girls v Aprilia.

Explain that the false statement must have been relied on by the other party, Avon Insurance v Swire Fraser Ltd.

Explain that any misrepresentation allows the other party to rescind the contract, Car and Universal Finance v Caldwell.

Explain statutory regulation of contract terms:

- Consumer Rights Act 2015
 - s13(2)(a).

Explain statutory regulation of insurance contracts:

- Consumer Insurance (Disclosure and Representations) Act 2012.

Credit any other relevant points such as the Consumer Protection from Unfair Trading Regulations 2008 which make it a criminal offence to mislead the customer with any unfair commercial practices.

Credit any other relevant point(s).

AO2 Indicative content

Answers may include:

Sanjit and the car

- Identify that Sanjit is a consumer and so the contract would be regulated by consumer rights legislation
- Identify that Geoff would have had a duty to point out any differences between the display model and the model that Sanjit was ordering

- Conclude that Sanjit would have the right to reject the car, provided he exercises that right within 30 days
- Identify that at common law Geoff has made a false statement when he represented that the car on display would be similar to the car that Sanjit was ordering
- Conclude that Sanjit would have the right to rescind the contract for misrepresentation unless he has affirmed the contract by using the car with knowledge of the discrepancy.

Sanjit and the insurance

- Identify that Sanjit was not aware that the insurance company would have wanted to know about the accident and so his statement was not deliberate
- Identify that the insurance company did not ask about previous accidents and so the statement is unlikely to be seen as careless.

Conclude that the insurance company will not be able to decline to pay out for accident or reduce any payments.

Credit any other relevant point(s).

	AO1	Mark	AO2 1a/1b	Mark
Level 4	Excellent knowledge and understanding of the English legal system, rules and principles. The response is accurate, fully developed and detailed. There will be excellent citation of fully relevant statutes and case law.	9–10	Excellent application of legal rules to a given scenario. Excellent presentation of a legal argument which is accurate, fully developed and detailed. Fully appropriate legal terminology is used.	12–15
Level 3	Good knowledge and understanding of the English legal system, rules and principles. The response is detailed, but not fully developed in places. There will be good citation of mostly relevant statutes and case law.	6–8	Good application of legal rules to a given scenario. Good presentation of a legal argument which is detailed but not fully developed in places. Appropriate legal terminology is used.	8–11
Level 2	Basic knowledge and understanding of the English legal system, rules and principles. The response may lack detail in places and is partially developed. There will be some reference to statutes and case law.	3–5	Basic application of legal rules to a given scenario. Basic presentation of a legal argument which may lack detail in places and is partially developed. Some appropriate legal terminology is used.	4–7
Level 1	Limited knowledge and understanding of the English legal system, rules and principles. The response will have minimal detail. Citation of statutes and case law is limited.	1–2	Limited application of legal rules to a given scenario. Limited presentation of a legal argument which has minimal detail and is unstructured and/or unclear. Minimal legal terminology is used.	1–3
Level 0	No response or no response worthy of credit.	0	No response or no response worthy of credit.	0

11* Discuss the extent to which the rules on intention to create legal relations are in need of reform.

Assessment Objectives	AO1: Demonstrate knowledge and understanding of the English legal system and legal rules and principles. 10 marks. AO3 1a: Analyse and evaluate legal rules and principles. 15 marks.
Additional guidance	The 'indicative content' is an example of valid content. Any other valid content is acceptable and should be credited in line with the levels of response. It is not expected for candidates to cover all of the indicative content.

AO1 Indicative content

Answers may include:

Explain that contracts made between friends or family members have a presumption that there is no intention to create legal relations, Jones v Padavatton, Balfour v Balfour

Explain that the presumption can be rebutted in certain circumstances:

- Where the parties are not contracting on a domestic basis Albert v Motor Insurer's Bureau, Snelling v Snelling
- Where the domestic relationship has broken down or it is anticipated that it may break down, Merritt v Merritt, Granatino v Radmacher
- Where there has been reliance on the contract Parker v Clarke, Simpkins v Pays

Explain that in commercial cases there is a presumption that the parties intend to be legally bound, Esso v Commissioners for Customs & Excise, Edwards v Skyways, Carlill v Carbolic Smokeball Co.

Explain that the commercial presumption can be rebutted if clear words are used to show no legal intent, Rose and Frank v Crompton and Jones v Vernon Pools

Explain that a pre-contractual statement that does not contain a clear promise will not create legal relations Kleinwort Benson v Malaysia Mining.

Reference to theory of contract law, e.g. laissez faire, sanctity of contract.

Credit any other relevant point(s).

AO3 Indicative content

Answers may include:

Discuss whether the presumption arising in domestic cases should be reformed:

- Whether the domestic presumption overlaps with the doctrine of consideration and whether it still serves any purpose
- Whether the basis of the rules against intention in domestic cases is based on an outdated and sexist view of domestic arrangements

- Whether the presumption still gives essential protection for parties who may have no intention to create a contract which is enforceable in law
- Whether the presumption serves an essential policy role in limiting trivial domestic cases which should not take up court time
- Whether the presumption has been undermined by the court's increasing willingness to uphold pre-nuptial agreements.

Discuss whether the presumption arising in commercial cases should be reformed:

- Whether the ability to include words to exclude legal intent is a vital protection for companies who are negotiating potential contracts
- Whether the words could be used by economically dominant companies to avoid potential liability, for example on exclusive dealing agreements
- Whether the reasoning in Jones v Vernon Pools, that it protects a pools company from fraudulent claims, is still valid in a more technical age
- Whether the decision in Kleinwort Benson v Malaysia Mining creates uncertainty in assessing the effect of a pre-contractual promise.

Link made to contract law theory relevant to the focus of the question.

Credit any other relevant point(s).

	AO1	Mark	AO3 1a	Mark
Level 4	Excellent knowledge and understanding of the English legal system, rules and principles. The response is accurate, fully developed and detailed. There will be excellent citation of fully relevant case law.	9–10	Excellent analysis and evaluation of a wide range of legal rules and principles. The response is wide ranging and has a well sustained focus on the question. The key points are fully discussed and fully developed to reach a valid conclusion. There is a well-developed line of reasoning which is clear and logically structured. The information presented is relevant and substantiated.	12–15
Level 3	Good knowledge and understanding of the English legal system, rules and principles. The response is detailed, but not fully developed in places. There will be good citation of mostly relevant case law.	6–8	Good analysis and evaluation of a range of legal rules and principles. The response has a mainly consistent focus on the question. Most of the key points are well discussed and well developed to reach a valid conclusion. There is a line of reasoning presented with some structure. The information presented is in the most-part relevant and supported by some evidence.	8–11
Level 2	Basic knowledge and understanding of the English legal system, rules and principles. The response may lack detail in places and is partially developed. There will be some reference to case law.	3–5	Basic analysis and evaluation of legal rules and principles. The response is partially focused on the question. Some of the key points are discussed and partially developed to reach a basic conclusion. The information has some relevance and is presented with a basic structure. The information is supported by basic evidence.	4–7
Level 1	Limited knowledge and understanding of the English legal system, rules and principles. The response will have minimal detail. Citation of case law is limited.	1–2	Limited analysis of legal rules and principles. The response has limited focus on the question. Discussion of any key points is minimal. The information is limited and communicated in an unstructured way. The information is supported by limited evidence and the relationship to the evidence may not be clear.	1–3
Level 0	No response or no response worthy of credit.	0	No response or no response worthy of credit.	0

12 Advise whether there has been an offer and acceptance between Dylan and Ella and Dylan and Wendy.

Assessment Objectives	AO1: Demonstrate knowledge and understanding of the English legal system and legal rules and principles. 10 marks. AO2: Apply legal rules and principles to given scenarios in order to present a legal argument using appropriate legal terminology. 15 marks.
Additional guidance	The 'indicative content' is an example of valid content. Any other valid content is acceptable and should be credited in line with the levels of response. It is not expected for candidates to cover all of the indicative content.

AO1 Indicative content

Answers may include:

Explain basic rules of offer and acceptance (mirror image).

Explain the rules for revocation of an offer:

- That revocation must be communicated to be effective, Byrne v Van Tienhoven
- That revocation can be made via a third party, Dickinson v Dodds
- That consideration must be given for an offer to keep an offer open, Dickinson v Dodds, Routledge v Grant.

Explain the rules for communicating acceptance:

- Acceptance must be communicated to be effective.

Credit any other relevant point(s).

AO2 Indicative content

Answers may include:

Dylan and Ella:

- Identify that Ella has not given any consideration for the offer to keep the offer open until Tuesday
- Identify that his offer will remain open until it has been revoked or accepted
- Discuss whether Ella seeing the picture amounts to revocation of the offer
- Discuss the point at which Ella's email to accept takes effect
- Draw any reasonable conclusion on the facts.

Dylan and Wendy:

- Identify that offer and acceptance is communicated and effective during the phone call
- Identify that Dylan's attempt to revoke the offer is ineffective as revocation cannot take place after acceptance
- Conclude that there is a binding contract between Dylan and Wendy which has been breached.

Credit any other relevant point(s).

	AO1	Mark	AO2 1a/1b	Mark
Level 4	Excellent knowledge and understanding of the English legal system, rules and principles. The response is accurate, fully developed and detailed. There will be excellent citation of fully relevant case law.	9–10	Excellent application of legal rules to a given scenario. Excellent presentation of a legal argument which is accurate, fully developed and detailed. Fully appropriate legal terminology is used.	12–15
Level 3	Good knowledge and understanding of the English legal system, rules and principles. The response is detailed, but not fully developed in places. There will be good citation of mostly relevant case law.	6–8	Good application of legal rules to a given scenario. Good presentation of a legal argument which is detailed but not fully developed in places. Appropriate legal terminology is used.	8–11
Level 2	Basic knowledge and understanding of the English legal system, rules and principles. The response may lack detail in places and is partially developed. There will be some reference to case law.	3–5	Basic application of legal rules to a given scenario. Basic presentation of a legal argument which may lack detail in places and is partially developed. Some appropriate legal terminology is used.	4–7
Level 1	Limited knowledge and understanding of the English legal system, rules and principles. The response will have minimal detail. Citation of case law is limited.	1–2	Limited application of legal rules to a given scenario. Limited presentation of a legal argument which has minimal detail and is unstructured and/or unclear. Minimal legal terminology is used.	1–3
Level 0	No response or no response worthy of credit.	0	No response or no response worthy of credit.	0

- 13 Advise whether Abacus' contracts with Beaches and with Sportius can be treated as frustrated and the financial consequences which would arise if they are.

Assessment Objectives	AO1: Demonstrate knowledge and understanding of the English legal system and legal rules and principles. 10 marks. AO2: Apply legal rules and principles to given scenarios in order to present a legal argument using appropriate legal terminology. 15 marks.
Additional guidance	The 'indicative content' is an example of valid content. Any other valid content is acceptable and should be credited in line with the levels of response. It is not expected for candidates to cover all of the indicative content.

AO1 Indicative content

Answers may include:

Explain the ways in which a contract may be frustrated:

- Impossibility of performance, Nichol and Knight v Ashton Eldridge
- Radical change of circumstances, Krell v Henry.

Explain the circumstances where the courts will decide that frustration will not apply.

- Where performance would be possible but more difficult or expensive than originally anticipated, Tsakiroglou v Noblee Thorl
- Where the change of circumstances is not sufficiently radical, Herne Bay v Hutton, Davis Contractors v Fareham.

Explain the provisions of the Law Reform (Frustrated Contracts) Act 1943

- Section 1(2) where money paid in advance of the frustrating event may be reclaimed minus just expenses
- Section 1(3) where a party has to account for any valuable benefit they would have gained because of the frustrating event.

Credit any other relevant point(s).

AO2 Indicative content

Answers may include:

Abacus and Beaches:

- Identify that it is still possible to perform the contract with Beaches as no means of performance had been specified in the contract
- Identify that an increase in cost will not be sufficient to frustrate the contract
- Conclude that the contract will not be frustrated
- Explain that if the contract is not frustrated and Abacus will be in breach of contract if they do not deliver the equipment to Beaches.

Abacus and Sportius:

- Identify that the fire is likely to be a frustrating event as performance of the contract has become impossible
- Identify that under statute Sportius is entitled to have the money paid before frustration returned
- Identify that Abacus are entitled to retain just expenses from the money and that how this is calculated is a matter of discretion for the judge
- Draw any reasonable conclusion on the facts.

Credit any other relevant point(s).

	AO1	Mark	AO2 1a/1b	Mark
Level 4	Excellent knowledge and understanding of the English legal system, rules and principles. The response is accurate, fully developed and detailed. There will be excellent citation of fully relevant statutes and case law.	9–10	Excellent application of legal rules to a given scenario. Excellent presentation of a legal argument which is accurate, fully developed and detailed. Fully appropriate legal terminology is used.	12–15
Level 3	Good knowledge and understanding of the English legal system, rules and principles. The response is detailed, but not fully developed in places. There will be good citation of mostly relevant statutes and case law.	6–8	Good application of legal rules to a given scenario. Good presentation of a legal argument which is detailed but not fully developed in places. Appropriate legal terminology is used.	8–11
Level 2	Basic knowledge and understanding of the English legal system, rules and principles. The response may lack detail in places and is partially developed. There will be some reference to statutes and case law.	3–5	Basic application of legal rules to a given scenario. Basic presentation of a legal argument which may lack detail in places and is partially developed. Some appropriate legal terminology is used.	4–7
Level 1	Limited knowledge and understanding of the English legal system, rules and principles. The response will have minimal detail. Citation of statutes and case law is limited.	1–2	Limited application of legal rules to a given scenario. Limited presentation of a legal argument which has minimal detail and is unstructured and/or unclear. Minimal legal terminology is used.	1–3
Level 0	No response or no response worthy of credit.	0	No response or no response worthy of credit.	0

14* Discuss the extent to which the rules on intention to create legal relations are in need of reform.

Assessment Objectives	AO1: Demonstrate knowledge and understanding of the English legal system and legal rules and principles. 10 marks. AO3 1a: Analyse and evaluate legal rules and principles. 15 marks.
Additional guidance	The 'indicative content' is an example of valid content. Any other valid content is acceptable and should be credited in line with the levels of response. It is not expected for candidates to cover all of the indicative content.

AO1 Indicative content

Answers may include:

Explain that contracts made between friends or family members have a presumption that there is no intention to create legal relations, Jones v Padavatton, Balfour v Balfour

Explain that the presumption can be rebutted in certain circumstances:

- Where the parties are not contracting on a domestic basis Albert v Motor Insurer's Bureau, Snelling v Snelling
- Where the domestic relationship has broken down or it is anticipated that it may break down, Merritt v Merritt, Granatino v Radmacher
- Where there has been reliance on the contract Parker v Clarke, Simpkins v Pays

Explain that in commercial cases there is a presumption that the parties intend to be legally bound, Esso v Commissioners for Customs & Excise, Edwards v Skyways, Carlill v Carbolic Smokeball Co.

Explain that the commercial presumption can be rebutted if clear words are used to show no legal intent, Rose and Frank v Crompton and Jones v Vernon Pools

Explain that a pre-contractual statement that does not contain a clear promise will not create legal relations Kleinwort Benson v Malaysia Mining.

Reference to theory of contract law, e.g. laissez faire, sanctity of contract.

Credit any other relevant point(s).

AO3 Indicative content

Answers may include:

Discuss whether the presumption arising in domestic cases should be reformed:

- Whether the domestic presumption overlaps with the doctrine of consideration and whether it still serves any purpose
- Whether the basis of the rules against intention in domestic cases is based on an outdated and sexist view of domestic arrangements

- Whether the presumption still gives essential protection for parties who may have no intention to create a contract which is enforceable in law
- Whether the presumption serves an essential policy role in limiting trivial domestic cases which should not take up court time
- Whether the presumption has been undermined by the court's increasing willingness to uphold pre-nuptial agreements.

Discuss whether the presumption arising in commercial cases should be reformed:

- Whether the ability to include words to exclude legal intent is a vital protection for companies who are negotiating potential contracts
- Whether the words could be used by economically dominant companies to avoid potential liability, for example on exclusive dealing agreements
- Whether the reasoning in Jones v Vernon Pools, that it protects a pools company from fraudulent claims, is still valid in a more technical age
- Whether the decision in Kleinwort Benson v Malaysia Mining creates uncertainty in assessing the effect of a pre-contractual promise.

Link made to contract law theory relevant to the focus of the question.

Credit any other relevant point(s).

	AO1	Mark	AO3 1a	Mark
Level 4	Excellent knowledge and understanding of the English legal system, rules and principles. The response is accurate, fully developed and detailed. There will be excellent citation of fully relevant case law.	9–10	Excellent analysis and evaluation of a wide range of legal rules and principles. The response is wide ranging and has a well sustained focus on the question. The key points are fully discussed and fully developed to reach a valid conclusion. There is a well-developed line of reasoning which is clear and logically structured. The information presented is relevant and substantiated.	12–15
Level 3	Good knowledge and understanding of the English legal system, rules and principles. The response is detailed, but not fully developed in places. There will be good citation of mostly relevant case law.	6–8	Good analysis and evaluation of a range of legal rules and principles. The response has a mainly consistent focus on the question. Most of the key points are well discussed and well developed to reach a valid conclusion. There is a line of reasoning presented with some structure. The information presented is in the most-part relevant and supported by some evidence.	8–11
Level 2	Basic knowledge and understanding of the English legal system, rules and principles. The response may lack detail in places and is partially developed. There will be some reference to case law.	3–5	Basic analysis and evaluation of legal rules and principles. The response is partially focused on the question. Some of the key points are discussed and partially developed to reach a basic conclusion. The information has some relevance and is presented with a basic structure. The information is supported by basic evidence.	4–7
Level 1	Limited knowledge and understanding of the English legal system, rules and principles. The response will have minimal detail. Citation of case law is limited.	1–2	Limited analysis of legal rules and principles. The response has limited focus on the question. Discussion of any key points is minimal. The information is limited and communicated in an unstructured way. The information is supported by limited evidence and the relationship to the evidence may not be clear.	1–3
Level 0	No response or no response worthy of credit.	0	No response or no response worthy of credit.	0

Assessment Objectives Grid

Questions	AO1	AO2 1a/1b	AO3 1a	AO3 1b	Total
1*or 2*	10	0	0	15	25
3, 6, 9 or 12	10	15	0	0	25
4, 7, 10 or 13	10	15	0	0	25
5*, 8*, 11* or 14*	10	0	15	0	25
Total	40	30	15	15	100

AO2 elements 1a and 1b will be awarded jointly