General Certificate of Secondary Education

Mark Scheme for June 2019

OCR (Oxford Cambridge and RSA) is a leading UK awarding body, providing a wide range of qualifications to meet the needs of candidates of all ages and abilities. OCR qualifications include AS/A Levels, Diplomas, GCSEs, Cambridge Nationals, Cambridge Technicals, Functional Skills, Key Skills, Entry Level qualifications, NVQs and vocational qualifications in areas such as IT, business, languages, teaching/training, administration and secretarial skills.

It is also responsible for developing new specifications to meet national requirements and the needs of students and teachers. OCR is a not-for-profit organisation; any surplus made is invested back into the establishment to help towards the development of qualifications and support, which keep pace with the changing needs of today's society.

This mark scheme is published as an aid to teachers and students, to indicate the requirements of the examination. It shows the basis on which marks were awarded by examiners. It does not indicate the details of the discussions which took place at an examiners' meeting before marking commenced.

All examiners are instructed that alternative correct answers and unexpected approaches in candidates' scripts must be given marks that fairly reflect the relevant knowledge and skills demonstrated.

Mark schemes should be read in conjunction with the published question papers and the report on the examination.

MARKING INFORMATION

Introduction

Your first task as an Examiner is to become thoroughly familiar with the material on which the examination depends. You should ensure that you have copies of these materials:

- the specification, especially the assessment objectives
- the question paper and its rubrics
- the mark scheme.

You should ensure also that you are familiar with the administrative procedures related to the marking process. These are set out in the OCR booklet Instructions for Examiners. If you are examining for the first time, please read carefully Appendix 5 Introduction to Script Marking: Notes for New Examiners. Please ask for help or guidance whenever you need it. Your first point of contact is your Team Leader.

Using the mark scheme

Please study this mark scheme carefully. The mark scheme is an integral part of the process that begins with the setting of the question paper and ends with the awarding of grades. Question papers and mark schemes are developed in association with each other so that issues of differentiation and positive achievement can be addressed from the very start.

This mark scheme is a working document; it is not exhaustive; it does not provide 'correct' answers. The mark scheme can only provide 'best guesses' about how the question will work out, and it is subject to revision after we have looked at a wide range of scripts.

The Team Leader' standardisation (SSU) meeting will ensure that the mark scheme covers the range of candidates' responses to the questions, and that all Examiners understand and apply the mark scheme in the same way. The mark scheme will be discussed and amended at the meeting, and administrative procedures will be confirmed.

Please read carefully all the scripts in your allocation and make every effort to look positively for achievement throughout the ability range. Always be prepared to use the full range of marks.

Information and instructions for examiners

1. The practice scripts provide you with examples of the standard of each band. The marks awarded for these scripts will have been agreed by the Team Leaders and will be discussed fully at the Examiners' Standardisation Set-up Meeting.
2. The specific task-related indicative content for each question will help you to understand how the band descriptors may be applied. However, this indicative content does not constitute the mark scheme: it is material that candidates might use, grouped according to each assessment objective tested by the question. It is hoped that candidates will respond to questions in a variety of ways. Rigid demands for 'what must be a good answer' would lead to a distorted assessment. The indicative content for each task provides an indication of what candidates are likely to cover. The notes are neither prescriptive nor exhaustive: candidates should be rewarded for any relevant response which appropriately addresses the Assessment Objectives.
3. Candidates' answers must be relevant to the question. Beware of prepared answers that do not show the candidate's thought and which have not been adapted to the thrust of the question. Beware also of answers where candidates attempt to reproduce interpretations and concepts that they have been taught but have only partially understood.

ASSESSMENT OBJECTIVES

All questions in Section A assess AO3, Demonstrate knowledge and understanding of how drama and theatre is developed and performed. The one question in Section B assesses both, AO3 and AO4, Analyse and evaluate their own work and the work of others. The 30 marks are split; 20 marks for AO4, 10 marks for AO3.

Individual questions are designed to allow the distribution of marks between the Assessment Objectives. For some points based marking and the levels of response questions you are required to identify a candidate's performance under each assessment objective and award marks accordingly.

Marking Scripts

Answers must be marked using the level descriptors in the marking grids and a mark awarded for each Assessment Objective.

The points in the mark scheme are indicative content only and offer some question specific guidance. Credit should be given for other points and different views, if they seem possible and are well argued or supported by good evidence.

You must avoid negative marking - don't deduct marks for individual errors. All marks should be allocated by reference to the assessment grid.

Any queries on unexpected answers please consult your Team Leader/Principal Examiner.

Using annotations

- Take great care to place a tick (see below) against any valid points that lead you to think at all favourably of the answer.
- Do not leave any page unmarked (as a last resort tick the very bottom of a page to indicate that you have read it - otherwise Team Leaders/Principal Examiners cannot tell whether account has been taken of that page).
- Underline errors and place the appropriate symbol in the margin.
- Indicate that you have looked at every page of the answer booklet by placing the BP symbol at the top and bottom of any blank pages.

Ticks: these are the simplest, quickest and most efficient means for examiners to convey approval to Senior Examiners, and they should be inserted where they can be most effective. If the point you wish to highlight is in the middle of a paragraph, then put the tick in the middle of a line in the middle of a paragraph. Overuse of the tick tends to devalue its effectiveness.

Do use ticks to draw attention to anything worthy of credit [even single words].

Do not use ticks as a substitute for marking/assessment; marks for questions must be determined by reference to the assessment grid, NOT by mechanical addition of ticks.

Highlighting: use highlighting as directed by your Principal Examiner.

QUALITY OF EXTENDED RESPONSE

- Reasonable but not excessive account should be taken of particularly poor spelling (S), punctuation, and other defects in English grammar and expression (E).
- Legibility: use the sign (L) in the margin to areas of a script which you cannot read.
- Extreme cases of illegibility should be referred to your Team Leader/Principal Examiner.

SECTION A

Question	Answer	Mark	Guidance
1	From the list below, select the character from the performance text you have studied. Describe two ways an actor, playing this role, could deliver the line effectively in performance. Blood Brothers: Mrs Lyons: 'They ... they say that if either twin learns he was once a pair, they shall both immediately die.' Death of a Salesman: Linda: 'I love him. He's the dearest man in the world to me, and I won't have anyone making him feel unwanted and low and blue.' Find Me: Mark: 'I wish I didn't have to live at home. You never know what she's going to do next. I can't bring my friends to our house.' Gizmo: Ben: 'And he smiles. It was the most frightening smile I've ever seen in my life. And then he turns and looks straight at me.' Kindertransport: Helga: 'We all die one day, but jewels never fade or perish. Through our children we live. That's how we cheat death.' Missing Dan Nolan: Pauline: 'I find myself feeling guilty if I enjoy myself ... feeling guilty about getting into a warm bed ... feeling guilty about having a hot meal.' Misterman: Thomas: 'And I run! And run fast up over the hill and past the church! My good words sent burning about me. Inishfree once more all bad and diseased.'

Question	Answer	Mark	Guidance
	1 mark for any accurately identified way of delivering the line, to a maximum of 2 marks. 1 mark for the description of the way it is effective in the performance, to a maximum of 2 marks. Examples of 2 Mark Answers: Blood Brothers: Mrs Lyons <ul style="list-style-type: none"> She moves around Mrs Johnstone in a wheedling, sneaky way, playing superstition to support her case for keeping their deal secret. This helps to builds tension (2). She uses body language, facial expression and mime to threaten death of a baby. This is effective as it helps the plot to build suspense throughout the play (2). Find Me: Mark <ul style="list-style-type: none"> He expresses anger, bewilderment and frustration about his friends versus his sister. This is effective as it shows Mark's state of mind (2). He uses voice to express the range of emotions in this line. This helps build his character background (2). Missing Dan Nolan: Pauline <ul style="list-style-type: none"> She shows her guilt through movement, facial expression and body language. This is effective as she reveals how she really feels to the audience (2). She uses vocal variety to convey her inner anguish. This highlights her deep anguish in that to have a child missing is one of the great terrors of motherhood (2). Examples of 1 Mark Answers: Blood Brothers: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> She moves around Mrs Johnstone in an agitated way (1). She uses body language OR facial expression OR mime to threaten death of a baby (1). She raises her voice or whispers to add fear to Mrs Johnstone's already worried mind (1). 	2+2	There may be other content in a response that is valid and worthy of credit. Award credit for any valid response from the stated performance text. Candidates don't need to use the word 'effective' to gain the 2nd mark. As long as there is an implication of the effect, that is acceptable. The use of voice for both examples is acceptable as long as they are different aspects.

Question	Answer	Mark	Guidance
2	Describe two ways lighting and/or sound could be used to show tension at one moment in the performance text you have studied. 1 mark should be awarded for describing a lighting and/or sound effect, to a maximum of 2 marks. 1 mark for how it could be used to show tension(s), to a maximum of 2 marks. Examples Blood Brothers: Moment – When Mickey and Eddie meet for the first time. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • A loud drum heartbeat could sound when the twins meet (1). This builds tension/conflict between the twins and enhances their different backgrounds (1). • The lights could dim to a red when they become 'blood brothers' (1). This builds tension and highlights what is to come (1). Find Me: Moment – Restaurant Scene <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • When Verity's behaviour becomes more inappropriate, a percussion sound could repeat (1). This will add tension as it will heighten clashes of personalities with differing agendas (1). • There could be reduced lighting of the sets/space with spot lighting (1). This creates tension and produces an almost claustrophobic feel/area (1). Missing Dan Nolan: Moment – The Pontoon (Section 6) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Blue and red lighting could be used (1). This will enhance the undercurrent of conflict and some tension where an explanation for the tragedy is offered (1). • Teenage party lighting and sound effects could be used (1). This creates excitement and how the vodka has an effect on Dan and adds to the inevitability of the coming mishap, building the tension (1). Examples of 1 Mark Answers: Blood Brothers: Moment - Opening Scene <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Reduced lighting when the Narrator speaks (1). • Eerie music will accompany the Narrators monologue (1). 	2+2	The answer must refer to 2 examples for 1 moment only. If more than 1 moment is selected, mark both and credit the higher mark only.

Included in the discussion may be:

- effect of lighting on stage furniture, if any
- impact of sound and effects on characters and on audience
- what elements of text/plot are reinforced, highlighted and underscored by the suggested lighting or sound.

Tension can be interpreted widely.

There may be other content in a response that is valid and worthy of credit.

3	Select a different character from the performance text you have studied from the one you wrote about in Question 1. Complete the boxes below to briefly describe three ways an actor could use physicality for their performance. Give a justified example for each using the selected character. 1 mark for each of the three ways an actor could use physicality, to a maximum of 3 marks. 1 mark for each of the three justified examples, to a maximum of 3 marks. The justification of the actor using physicality will depend on the candidate's interpretation of that character. Do not accept: Voice, Costume, Make-up, Hair, Staging and Proxemics. Blood Brothers Character - Mrs Johnstone <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Posture (1). Slouched. This is because she is old before her time, with a large demanding family often in trouble and more on the way (1). Movement (1). In the second act, there is a bounce, lightness of movement, energy, hope and quickness like a woman reborn (1). Find Me Character - Edward <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Gestures (1). He may show his unease by fidgeting, sitting/standing, constantly with large facial gestures (1). Body Language (1). Edward's movements are agitated, defensive, angry, sometimes exaggerated physicality to match each in turn (1). Missing Dan Nolan Character - Pauline <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Facial Expression (1). Shows her love for Dan when she gives him the cake through her open/happy facial expression (1). Walking/Pacing/Gait (1). Moment when Dan goes missing, uses lots of physicality, pacing up and down, shaking with fear (1). 	2+2+2	Choice of 'character' is for the candidate to make. Accept the same character in Question 1, if the candidate has not used that character in question 1. There may be other content in a response that is valid and worthy of credit.

4	Imagine the performance text you have studied is to be staged in a promenade performance style. Explain three advantages and/or disadvantages of staging the performance text in this style. 1 mark for identifying an advantage/disadvantage of a promenade style, to a maximum of 3 marks. 1 mark for each explained advantage or disadvantage, to a maximum of 3 marks. (Must relate to Promenade) ADVANTAGES/DISADVANTAGES <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Variety of performance spaces for the audience • More realistic setting for a particular scene • Speed of scene change • Lighting • Sound effects • Use of stage furniture and props • Backs to audience • Atmosphere • Audience confusion • Losing concentration between settings • Audience getting comfortable in one setting • Acoustics • Sightlines may be variable • Moving for some audience members • Use of screens • Size of audience • Costume changes • Text specific. 	2+2+2	There should be some understanding of what a promenade performance is, although this needs to be flexible. There may be other content in a response that is valid and worthy of credit.

	0 marks No response worthy of credit. The question invites a director's perspective on ways of helping actors to highlight social context. It is appropriate for candidates to refer to cultural and historical contexts besides social ones. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Social context may be defined as the surroundings people are in and have to respond to, who and how they interact with situations, other people and their environment. It often includes political and/or economic contexts. Cultural and historical reference is also acceptable. • There may be some account of actor's physical, vocal skills to show relationships, characterisation and interactions. • There may be understanding of how semiotics can convey meaning to an audience. • There may be reference to how a contemporary audience could react to social contexts and how a production may have to explain them and how they may misunderstand the intention and/or message. Blood Brothers: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • It is generally set in Liverpool and with a political theatre approach through the stereotypical juxtaposition of classes, it stems from the late 1950s to the 1980s when it appeared. • There were social and cultural expectations and generalisations that working class people were poor, quickly laid off from work, did not go to university, had large families and often the mothers were abandoned with large families. The middle classes did not suffer those afflictions. This social view is sustained in this text. • Historical and social contexts support the cultural points and many working class and middle class people did experience privations to various degrees. Many working class people did well – the majority of pop groups and cultural exports from the area during the 1965-75 period did very well. • A modern audience would identify with the setting and story readily, as much other drama is focused on the same premises. • Separated twins leading contrasting lives and dying tragically in the same messy and unnecessary way chimes with all ages and is the social context at the heart of what a director would bring out in his/her actors. Find Me: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • With Brechtian style this is a form of political theatre, a text with a message about the insensitivity of the System against a troubled woman, Verity.

	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Culturally and socially there is much about the treatment of people with a range of mental health issues that would resonate today.• Historically, the confinement in asylums because of one incident that escalated was not uncommon in the 1900s-1980s. This is reflected in the social context of Verity and her family. Missing Dan Nolan: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• The time of the play is exact to the day 2002, and the suggested music reinforces that, while the theme remains timeless and sadly still current.• Social context references will include the relative freedom that young teenagers have in their socialising and their recreational activities. Fishing was a family approved activity. The access to alcohol by under-age youngsters is a relevant issue, too.• Historical context will include the fact that a missing teenager is not new.• A modern audience might expect the use of internet and social media to be more prevalent than it actually was in 2002.• Slides of old photos and newspaper cuttings would be digital now.

Question	Answer	Mark	Guidance
9	Evaluate how successfully the artistic intention was communicated to you in the live performance you have seen. In your answer you should consider: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • what you felt the artistic intention was • how effectively the actors communicated meaning to you in relation to the artistic intention • how successful the directing and design were in helping you understand artistic intention. Artistic Intention The decisions, made by the director, designers and actors, to communicate the meaning of the performance by enhancing the themes, purpose and message for its intended audience. Candidates should use appropriate drama and theatre terminology. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The effectiveness of the artistic intention of the production should be considered in relation to the audience and the communication of theatrical ideas. • The success of the performance should be evaluated from a personal perspective while demonstrating that the candidate understands live theatrical performance. • Candidates should argue what the artistic intention was (humour, warning, informative, mockery, forum for performance skills) and whether it was successful in those terms. • Examples should be given to support any evaluative statements about the performance and should focus on how engaged the candidate was in the audience. • Whatever style of performance candidates have seen, they have scope to describe a range of artistic intentions from tragedy to comedy, from educational/informative to heavy message-based work. • A response may be developed in a variety of ways. At the heart of the question is the issue of how theatrical performance creates emotional responses and meaning through the wide range of dramatic techniques. • Simply listing the details of a production is unlikely to meet the requirements of a good response. The production seen is the starting point and should stimulate discussion. At the higher end, candidates may reference other performances seen, their own practical work and similar/contrasting work by the same or different creatives. • There will be recognition that a live performance is more than the work of the actors. Many 	30	The quality of extended response is assessed in this question. NOTE: The indicative content is neither prescriptive nor exhaustive.
