English Literature

Unit J352/01: Exploring modern and literary heritage texts

General Certificate of Secondary Education

Mark Scheme for June 2018

OCR (Oxford Cambridge and RSA) is a leading UK awarding body, providing a wide range of qualifications to meet the needs of candidates of all ages and abilities. OCR qualifications include AS/A Levels, Diplomas, GCSEs, Cambridge Nationals, Cambridge Technicals, Functional Skills, Key Skills, Entry Level qualifications, NVQs and vocational qualifications in areas such as IT, business, languages, teaching/training, administration and secretarial skills.

It is also responsible for developing new specifications to meet national requirements and the needs of students and teachers. OCR is a not-for-profit organisation; any surplus made is invested back into the establishment to help towards the development of qualifications and support, which keep pace with the changing needs of today's society.

This mark scheme is published as an aid to teachers and students, to indicate the requirements of the examination. It shows the basis on which marks were awarded by examiners. It does not indicate the details of the discussions which took place at an examiners' meeting before marking commenced.

All examiners are instructed that alternative correct answers and unexpected approaches in candidates' scripts must be given marks that fairly reflect the relevant knowledge and skills demonstrated.

Mark schemes should be read in conjunction with the published question papers and the report on the examination.

Subject-specific Marking Instructions*INTRODUCTION

Your first task as an Examiner is to become thoroughly familiar with the material on which the examination depends. This material includes:

- the specification, especially the assessment objectives
- the question paper and its rubrics
- the texts which candidates have studied
- the mark scheme.

You should ensure that you have copies of these materials.

You should ensure also that you are familiar with the administrative procedures related to the marking process. These are set out in the OCR booklet Instructions for Examiners. If you are examining for the first time, please read carefully Appendix 5 Introduction to Script Marking: Notes for New Examiners.

Please ask for help or guidance whenever you need it. Your first point of contact is your Team Leader.

ASSESSMENT OBJECTIVES

Candidates are expected to demonstrate their ability to:

AO1	Read, understand and respond to texts. Students should be able to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>maintain a critical style and develop an informed personal response</li> <li>use textual references, including quotations, to support and illustrate interpretations.</li> </ul>
AO2	Analyse the language, form and structure used by a writer to create meanings and effects, using relevant subject terminology where appropriate.
AO3	Show understanding of the relationships between texts and the contexts in which they were written.
AO4	Use a range of vocabulary and sentence structures for clarity, purpose and effect, with accurate spelling and punctuation.

WEIGHTING OF ASSESSMENT OBJECTIVES

The relationship between the units and the assessment objectives of the scheme of assessment is shown in the following grid:

Component	% of GCSE				Total
	AO1	AO2	AO3	AO4
Exploring modern and literary heritage texts (J352/01)	20	17.5	10	2.5	50
Exploring poetry and Shakespeare (J352/02)	20	22.5	5	2.5	50
Total	40	40	15	5	100

USING THE MARK SCHEME

Please study this Mark Scheme carefully. The Mark Scheme is an integral part of the process that begins with the setting of the question paper and ends with the awarding of grades. Question papers and Mark Schemes are developed in association with each other so that issues of differentiation and positive achievement can be addressed from the very start.

This Mark Scheme is a working document; it is not exhaustive; it does not provide 'correct' answers. The Mark Scheme can only provide 'best guesses' about how the question will work out, and it is subject to revision after we have looked at a wide range of scripts.

The Examiners' Standardisation Meeting will ensure that the Mark Scheme covers the range of candidates' responses to the questions, and that all Examiners understand and apply the Mark Scheme in the same way. The Mark Scheme will be discussed and amended at the meeting, and administrative procedures will be confirmed. Co-ordination scripts will be issued at the meeting to exemplify aspects of candidates' responses and achievements; the co-ordination scripts then become part of this Mark Scheme.

Before the Standardisation Meeting, you should read and mark in pencil a number of scripts, in order to gain an impression of the range of responses and achievement that may be expected.

Please read carefully all the scripts in your allocation and make every effort to look positively for achievement throughout the ability range. Always be prepared to use the full range of marks.

INFORMATION AND INSTRUCTIONS FOR EXAMINERS

- 1 The co-ordination scripts provide you with examples of the standard of each band. The marks awarded for these scripts will have been agreed by the Team Leaders and will be discussed fully at the Examiners' Co-ordination Meeting.
- 2 The specific task-related indicative content for each question will help you to understand how the band descriptors may be applied. However, this indicative content does not constitute the mark scheme: it is material that candidates might use, grouped according to each assessment objective tested by the question. For each specific task, the intended balance between different assessment objectives is highlighted in the Mark Scheme: dominant assessment objectives are flagged, or where assessment objectives are equally weighted, this is flagged, too. It is hoped that candidates will respond to questions in a variety of ways and will give original and at times unexpected interpretations of texts. Rigid demands for 'what must be a good answer' would lead to a distorted assessment.
- 3 Candidates' answers must be relevant to the question. Beware of prepared answers that do not show the candidate's thought and which have not been adapted to the thrust of the question. Beware also of answers where candidates attempt to reproduce interpretations and concepts that they have been taught but have only partially understood.
- 4 Candidates' answers should demonstrate knowledge of their chosen texts. This knowledge will be shown in part through the range and relevance of their references to the text (bearing in mind that this is a closed text examination). Re-telling sections of the text without commentary is of little or no value.

INSTRUCTIONS TO EXAMINERS:*A INDIVIDUAL ANSWERS

- 1 The INDICATIVE CONTENT indicates the sort of material candidates might use in their answers, but be prepared to recognise and credit unexpected and alternative approaches where they are relevant.
- 2 Using 'best-fit', decide first which set of LEVEL OF RESPONSE BAND DESCRIPTORS for the relevant assessment objectives assessed in the task best describes the overall quality of the answer. In Unit J352/01, the AOs have different intended weightings in the different sections:

Component Exploring Modern and Literary Heritage Texts (J352/01)	% of GCSE				Total
	AO1	AO2	AO3	AO4
Section A: Modern prose or drama Part a)	5	2.5	5		12.5
Section A: Modern prose or drama Part b)	6.25	6.25			12.5
Section B: 19 th century prose	8.75	8.75	5	2.5	25
Total	20	17.5	10	2.5	50

Keep in mind the intended weightings of assessment objectives targeted by the question when initially identifying the correct Level of Response band. For each specific task, the intended balance between different assessment objectives is highlighted in the Mark Scheme: dominant assessment objectives are flagged, or where assessment objectives are equally weighted, this is flagged, too. Using 'best-fit', adjust the mark within the band according to the dominant (if applicable) assessment objectives following the guidelines below:

- Highest mark: If clear evidence of all the qualities in the band descriptors is shown, the HIGHEST Mark should be awarded.
  - Lowest mark: If the answer shows the candidate to be borderline (i.e. they have achieved all the qualities of the bands below and show limited evidence of meeting the criteria of the band in question) the LOWEST mark should be awarded.
  - Middle mark: This mark should be used for candidates who are secure in the band. They are not 'borderline' but they have only achieved some of the qualities in the band descriptors.
  - Further refinement can be made by using the intervening marks, if appropriate.
- 3 Be prepared to use the full range of marks. Do not reserve high band marks 'in case' something turns up of a quality you have not yet seen. If an answer gives clear evidence of the qualities described in the band descriptors, reward appropriately.

B TOTAL MARKS

- 1 Transfer the mark awarded to the front of the script.
- 2 The maximum mark for the paper is 80.

C RATIONALE FOR ASSESSING AO3*Section A: Modern prose or drama

In this Section, for the Part a questions, candidates will have knowledge of contextual factors for their studied texts but will have no prior knowledge of the context of the unseen texts. The introduction to each extract will give clear contextual information, to allow candidates to develop inferences and ideas about relevant contexts.

Candidates are required to focus their analysis on comparison of the extracts (studied text and unseen) in the question paper, and do not need to refer more widely to the whole studied text.

They should therefore make reference to contextual factors that are relevant to their knowledge, understanding and interpretation of the extracts only. The relevant contextual factors will be concerned with social and cultural situations or experiences, which can be inferred from details in the extracts. In the questions, the supporting bullet points (1 and 2) target AO3 and AO1, (bullet point 3 targets AO2), clearly prompting candidates to consider situations and/ or experience that can be inferred from reading of the extracts. The mark scheme indicative content for AO3 exemplify the relevant contextual factors, for example, social class, gender, age and cultural and family relationships.

Section B: 19th century prose

In this Section, candidates will have knowledge of contextual factors for their studied texts and will use this to develop their response to the question. Candidates should only refer to contexts that are relevant to the specific question asked. The questions are worded to prompt candidates to consider relevant social, historical or cultural contexts, or relevant generic literary contexts, such as the conventions of science fiction writing or the Gothic.

In WWII ambulance drivers willingly risked their lives for a cause they believed in; during the Russian Revolution propagandists, represented by Squealer, sought to present sacrifices and setbacks in the best possible light to ensure continued commitment to the cause.</li> </ul> AO1: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>The ambulance drivers in The Night Watch are determinedly optimistic despite being 'impossible weary'; whereas the animals are 'weary' and dejected; the animals focus on their dead comrades and the difficulty of rebuilding the windmill, while the ambulance drivers joke about the 'ghastly things they'd seen and done'.</li> <li>Comparison of how the victory in Animal Farm is tempered with a note of defeat from the outset, whereas the victory in The Night Watch is only called into question at the end of the extract and does not affect the 'jolly' mood.</li> </ul> AO2: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Candidates may comment on how the good-humoured reactions of the ambulance drivers are made dramatic by the way Waters uses syntactic parallelism or repetition to emphasize the hardships they have undergone: 'from walking through rubble, from stooping and lifting, from driving...' In Animal Farm, the animals' dejection is thrown into relief by Squealer's upbeat appearance – while the animals 'slowly' limp back to the farm and halt in 'sorrowful silence', Squealer skips towards them, 'whisking his tail and beaming with satisfaction'.</li> </ul>	20

Question			Indicative content	Marks
			Candidates might consider how the jolly atmosphere in The Night Watch seems like an unusual reaction to war, conveyed in the antithesis 'turned the ghastly things they'd seen and done into jokes'. Squealer's attempt to whitewash the battle as a victory is undermined by Boxer. Squealer's excited tone is conveyed by the exclamation mark and the verb 'cried'.

The clear, simple structure is reminiscent of a nursery rhyme and suggests they are having fun, playing a game.</li> <li>Birling's exasperation at Eric conveyed through repetition with Birling seizing on the words Eric uses and throwing them back at him ('You don't seem to care about anything. But I care.'; 'It doesn't matter to you. Apparently nothing matters to you.') In the White Boy extract, humour is created through antithesis and juxtaposition (MTV, drugs) and through hyperbole (the long list of criticisms) and bathos (the answer to the myriad problems the youth of today face is to eat 'a plate of fresh vegetables' each night with their family).</li> </ul>	20

1	b	Anita and Me by Meera Syal Explore another moment in Anita and Me where Meena thinks about the relationships which are important to her. Please bear in mind that other content may be equally valid and should be credited. Possible moments include: when Meena describes her mother and Sunil's relationship and how she feels excluded; Meena's thoughts as she looks out of her bedroom window following Sam Lowbridge's racist outburst at the village fete and finding her mother crying at home; when Meena learns that Anita has a boyfriend; on the day of her eleven plus when she is furious with Tracey, Sam, Anita and herself; when Meena is questioned by the police about whether Tracey was pushed in the pond and she decides not to take revenge on Anita and Sam; AO1: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Meena's feelings for Sunil are complicated. She is jealous, describing him as 'barring the way' to her mother's heart. She is exasperated by him: he has to be 'forcibly peeled' from their mother; and she is smitten by him: 'he flashed me a heart-stopping radiant smile'.</li> <li>• Following the village fete, Meena's understanding of her relationships with Sam Lowbridge, many of her neighbours and her own mother who has 'talked in an unknown poet's voice' is shaken. Consequently she no longer feels safe.</li> </ul> AO2: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Meena's exasperation at her brother and their mother's close relationship is conveyed humorously: the simile comparing Sunil to a hump that his mother has grown on her back, and the hyperbolic stream of adjectives she uses to describe him ('snuffling milky mass of warm roundness').</li> <li>• Symbolism is used to convey Meena's feelings of insecurity now she has had to reassess many of her beliefs about the relationships in her life; she feels like the 'walls of [her] home' might 'buckle and shake, and crumble' at any moment.</li> </ul>	20

2	b	Never Let Me Go by Kazuo Ishiguro Explore another moment in Never Let Me Go where the donors consider their futures. Please bear in mind that other content may be equally valid and should be credited. Possible moments include: when the donors joke about ‘unzipping’ parts of themselves; when Chrissie and Rodney bring up the subject of deferrals during the trip to Norfolk; when Chrissie and Rodney say they will visit Ruth when she is working in an office; on the way back from the beached boat when Kathy shows Ruth and Tommy the poster of the ‘smart smiling people’ in the ‘open-plan office; when Tommy rages and shouts after learning that deferrals do not exist. AO1: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Candidates might argue that although the 13-year-old donors are not considering their futures ‘properly’ when they joke about ‘unzipping’, they are taking the first step to ‘acknowledging what was in front of [them]’, as Kathy points out.</li> <li>• After they learn that deferrals are a myth, Kathy keeps to the backroads and tries to avoid considering their futures; Tommy on the other hand stares their hopeless future in the face when he rages and shouts by the roadside.</li> </ul> AO2: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• The casual style in which the joke is relayed (‘You unzipped your liver, say, and dumped it on someone’s plate’) and the humour the choice of verbs helps convey (‘unzipping...piling...stuffing’) belies the horror of their futures.</li> <li>• The ‘obscure back roads’ symbolise how Kathy and Tommy try to steer the conversation away from their hopeless futures; they also symbolise the half-life the donors are forced to live while ordinary people use the ‘big glittering motorways’.</li> </ul>

Eric says his mother ‘killed’ Eva, and his mother says ‘I didn’t understand’, suggesting that she does now.</li> <li>Birling is bewildered by Sheila’s behaviour at the end, and Sheila is frightened by his. Both stick to their points of view during their disagreement. Birling says they have been ‘had’ and will ‘laugh’ about it later. Sheila believes everything has changed and they must learn from the evening’s revelations. .</li> </ul> AO2: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Candidates may refer to the repetition of second person pronoun ‘you’ and possessive adjective ‘your’ to emphasize Eric’s belief that his mother bears the responsibility for Eva’s death. Sheila uses a tricolon to stress the profound effect that the Inspector has had on her and the seriousness of her convictions (‘I remember what he said, how he looked, and what he made me feel’); Birling’s bewilderment at Sheila is conveyed by the three questions he asks of her in a row (‘Well, isn’t it?... Well, why shouldn’t we?... And you’re not, eh?’)</li> </ul>

5	b	My Mother Said I Never Should by Charlotte Keatley Explore another moment in My Mother Said I Never Should where the pain of separation is presented dramatically. Please bear in mind that other content may be equally valid and should be credited. Possible moments include: when Margaret takes Rosie from Jackie; when Doris talks to Jack after he has died; when Doris gives Jackie's letter to Rosie; when Rosie tells Jackie that Margaret has died; when Jackie explains to Rosie why she gave her away. AO1: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Candidates may focus on the pain Jackie is feeling as she gives up Rosie, e.g. a stage direction tells us she is 'Holding back tears', she tells her mother to leave the clothes Rosie has grown out of; and/or the upset Jackie has caused Margaret by not calling her for three months and trying to raise Rosie alone.</li> <li>• Doris compares herself to the roses that have blown down in the garden, they are 'crushed', like her without Jack. The pain of separation is eased by Rosie, who promises to visit Doris and reminds her that she has forgotten her gloves.</li> </ul> AO2: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Structure: Jackie addresses Rosie in the second person at the beginning (I've got to clear up, Rosie') and at the end of the scene ('Wore this the day you first smiled')– suggesting that she is yet to come to terms with being separated from her. The stage direction 'Screams' is the moment the pain of the separation hits Jackie.</li> <li>• Figurative language: the crushed roses in Doris's garden could symbolize how Doris feels without Jack or their love now Jack is dead. Her memories of Jack's last years also conveyed via a simile connected to the dead plants in the garden: Jack 'rattle[d] like a dry pod.'</li> </ul>

6	b	DNA by Dennis Kelly Explore another moment in DNA where the gang members' need for a leader is presented dramatically. Please bear in mind that other content may be equally valid and should be credited. Possible moments include: after Adam's 'death' when John Tate tries to 'keep everyone together'; when John Tate asks for Phil's help and Phil tells the gang what to do in order to cover up Adam's 'death'; after the police catch the man who 'kidnapped' Adam; when Phil persuades Brian to go to the police; after Adam returns and Phil orders Brian and Cathy to kill Adam. AO1: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Candidates might argue that there is a need for a leader after the police catch the man that Mark and Cathy have framed, because different points of view are put forward but there is no resolution. Cathy sounds like Phil with her coldly logical: 'You told us to get DNA evidence. We got DNA evidence. We did what you said.' Richard knows what they have done is wrong, but says 'What if we go to prison?' And Leah says this is 'not what we wanted' but in the end admits defeat. Phil does not step in here because for him there is no problem.</li> <li>• When Brian refuses to go to the police, Richard and Lou turn on Mark, who framed the postman. Lou concedes that they have to do something, Leah wonders about doing nothing. Phil has to step in here to resolve the problem and force Brian to go to the police.</li> </ul> AO2: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Cathy's certainty and then uncertainty mirrored in the syntax – 'You told us to get DNA evidence. We got DNA evidence' and then 'Well, we thought, you know, I mean you'd given a description'</li> <li>• Phil uses short, simple sentences, reflecting his cool logic: 'This is a bad situation. We didn't want this situation. But we've got this situation'. Antithesis used to create Phil's sinister character: 'Yes, yes, shhhh, yes. Sorry. You have to go in.'</li> </ul>
