Translation:

Sliding between her clothing and her smooth breast it winds around without touching her and as she rages it escapes her notice, breathing into her its viper's breath. The huge snake becomes the twisted gold around her neck, it becomes the ribbons of her long headband and weaves into her hair and it wanders slithering over her limbs.

How, by his use of language, does Virgil create a vivid impression of the actions of the snake? Make two points, each referring to the Latin.

rideat et vitiis laeta sit illa meis.
rideat et Tyrio iaceat sublimis in ostro—flebit et ardores vincet adusta meos.
dum ferrum flammaeque aderunt sucusque veneni, hostis Medaeae nullus inultus erit. 10
