QUESTION 4

Examiner
only

This question is about the ending of the apartheid system.

Study the sources below and then answer the question which follows.

Source C

The widow of Suluman Saloojee, who died in police custody in 1964, said his death had left her with a lingering hatred for some whites. The Truth and Reconciliation Commission heard how her husband, who was active in the ANC, was detained by the police and allegedly fell to his death from the seventh floor of police headquarters.

[Evidence presented at the Truth and Reconciliation Commission hearings which were set up in 1994]

Source D

We enter into an agreement that we shall build a society in which all South Africans, both black and white, will be able to walk proudly, without any fear or hatred in their hearts, and equal under the law – a rainbow nation at peace with itself and the world.

[From President Mandela's inauguration speech after his victory in the 1994 election]

Which of the sources is more useful to an historian studying the end of the apartheid system in South Africa? [12]

[You should refer to both sources in your answer and use your own knowledge and understanding of the historical context.]
